FLOOD CONTROL TO DETERMINE TAX REDUCTION

Mississippi States Want Government to Pay Large Sum for Prevention

WOULD RAISE TAXES
May Make Large Expenditures for Construction to Help Economic Situation

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1928, The N. A. Co.)
Washington—Flood control legislation now before the senate will probably be the most important factor in determining the policies of congress with reference to tax reduction.

The desire of the Mississippi valley states that the federal government pay practically the entire cost of flood prevention has crystallized to the extent that some measure along that line is certain to be passed. If the demand for material reduction in taxes were really uppermost, there would be a disposition to pare down the appropriation for flood control as well as for public building. But the situation has changed.

CHANGE OF HEART
Whereas in other years there was a noticeable pressure for tax reduction, particularly from those of small income, congress has taken to heart the fact that direct taxes are paid by a relatively small percent of the voting population of the country. This means that automobile taxes and indirect taxes will be repealed but that from a strictly political viewpoint, more advantage is seen in spending money for construction than in saving it for a small number of taxpayers.

The word is being passed around that in order to take care of unemployment and improve economic conditions, large expenditures should be made by the federal government for construction.
Naturally most members of congress feel that in a year of prosperity there is little likelihood of any widespread discontent which could be consented to in changes in personnel in congress. Generally speaking, the man with a seat on the floor is not easily dislodged by opponents whether it be a primary or a final election, if economic conditions are satisfactory.

President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon have been trying to hold in check the spending tendencies of congress, knowing full well that the senate, for tax reduction, is not as strong as it used to be. The Coolidge administration knows also that if tax reduction in any material amount is voted notwithstanding the recommendation of the treasury, there will be very little surplus left for debt retirement. And it has been the fixed policy of the administration to make every provision possible to reduce the public debt.

CONGRESS POINTS WAY
In a sense what congress "does" on flood legislation will point the way to other appropriations. There is little possibility, too, of any presidential veto because it is fully expected that the vote on flood control will be overwhelming. The viewpoint of the Mississippi valley that flood prevention is not necessarily the task of a few states, but that it is a national problem, has taken hold.

EFFORTS FOR 8-HOUR DAY END IN FAILURE

St. Paul, Minn.—(P)—Refusal of the road to submit the matter to arbitration Wednesday terminated efforts of yardmasters to get an eight-hour day on the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railway.
Eighteen men are directly affected,
employed in the road's yards at St.
Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha, Sioux City and Mason and Altona, Wis., where they now work twelve hours a day.

WARNS BOTH PARTIES WANT FEDERAL ASSISTANCE AT CHICAGO POLLS

Bombing of Deneen, Swanson Homes Causes Request for Guards on April 10

Chicago—(P)—The United States government Thursday was asked to guard Chicago polls April 10 when voters mark their answer to a turbulent, bomb-studded primary election campaign.

The bid for federal action was generally construed as a reply from the Republican party to the bombing of senator's home and that of circuit Judge Swanson Monday night—outrages which they have blamed on followers of the Mayor Thompson-State's Attorney Crowe Wing. The letter group has been equally insistent that Deneen followers themselves tossed the bombs to arouse interest in the Deneen slate.

Mayor Thompson's comment on the report that federal officials had interested themselves in the election, brought this statement:
"Charles S. Deneen was state attorney and made himself governor by the indictment route. In my opinion, the people understand his old tricks."

THREATEN JUDGE AGAIN
Threat of a second attempt upon Judge Swanson's life was made by the letter group to the Swanson home Wednesday night. A man's voice announced that Deneen followers would bomb the judge's home if he did not resign. Mrs. Henry Klaas, Judge Swanson's daughter, where her father was speaking. When she replied that she did not know, the voice said:
"This is the fellow who bombed your house two days ago. Tell the judge that the next time we will do a better job."

Judge Swanson, who is the Deneen candidate for nomination as state attorney against the incumbent, Robert E. Crowe, said he was genuinely concerned over the threat, which he reported to Police Commissioner Hughes.

State Senator Herman Hansen, Deneen candidate for the 40th ward committeeman, was another who was concerned. An anonymous letter said his home would be bombed and one of his children "got."

POLITICS NOT CAUSE
Detectives advanced the theory that politics probably were not directly connected with the Deneen-Swanson bombings. Rather, they said, accused of the bombings were the Deneen group for pronounced activity of federal prohibition agents during the past several months, may have hurried the bombs, seeking revenge.

Oshkosh, (P)—Mrs. John J. Swanson, wife of the Chicago circuit judge whose home was bombed Monday night, is a former Oshkosh woman.
She was formerly Miss Cecile A. Le-son of this city. A sister, Mrs. C. B.
Cleaver, lives here.

MURDERS WIFE SO HE CAN MARRY SWEETHEART

Oakland, Cal.—(P)—Efforts to recover the body of Mrs. Ida Rogers Antoine, formerly of Mankato and Janville, Minn., were made by police here Wednesday after the woman's husband told the authorities he had slain his wife with a hammer so he could marry an 18-year old girl.

Police said the husband, Arthur Antoine, 35, a mechanic of Oakland, told them he had seen his wife's body in canvas and tossed it from a bridge into Craquinez straits, near here. The police dragged the waters in an effort to find the corpse, and also dug in the back yard of An-toine's home here.

Lila Stowell, 15-year-old, for whose love Antoine is alleged to have slain his wife, married him on Jan. 20, less than a week after the alleged slaying.

Attempt To Bar Negroes, Italians From Australia

Sydney, Australia—(P)—"White Australia" is the rallying cry Thursday behind a widespread movement, fostered by William Hughes, former premier, to bar Negroes and Italians from the commonwealth and to stem the rising tide of immigration to this continent.

The exclusion movement took concrete form when the house of representatives of New South Wales ordered the deportation of an American Negro jazz band known as "Sonny Clay's Plantation orchestra." The action was taken after the Melbourne police had raided the band's quarters and charged them with disorderly conduct.

GREETED BY CHEERS
Announcement of the deportation order by the New South Wales minister of home territories was greeted with cheers in the provincial legislature. The Negroes were ordered placed aboard the liner Sierra, which sails for San Francisco next Saturday.
The deportation move left an issue before the authorities, who now are

EAGER TO CROSS ATLANTIC

Hermann Koehl (left), German ace whose westward trans-Atlantic flight attempt failed last summer, has set out again toward New York from Berlin with Baldonnel Airdrome, Ireland, his first stop. With him in his big

3 AUTOISTS HURT AS CAR GOES IN DITCH

Appleton Men Taken to Hospital After Cars Collide on Highway 41

Two men were seriously injured and a third received minor injuries when their automobile left the road near the Whitman farm on Highway 41 about two miles south of Appleton about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and turned over in the ditch.

The injured:
Orris Nichols, 32, 409 N. Wood-st., basal skull fracture. His condition is considered serious by attending physicians.

Gordon Gillespie, 36, 1021 N. Drew-st., fractured skull. Attending doctor, declares he will be in a serious condition for several days.

Albert Beltz, 50, 238 N. Green Bay-st., driver, injured back, right ear partially torn off and severe body bruises.
According to police records, Beltz's car crashed into the rear end of a car owned by Martin Cepelick, 194 Pres-on-st., Menasha, left the road and rolled on its side. D. W. Weston, Cepelick's son-in-law, was driving the Menasha car.

STORIES DIFFER
Beltz, questioned at the hospital Thursday morning, said he thought his car was struck by another automobile approaching from the south and the crash caused him to lose control of his car which went into the ditch and turned on its side.

Nichols and Gillespie were thrown clear of the wreckage but Beltz was planned beneath the car. He was taken out by motorists passing by.

The three men were taken to St.
Elizabeth hospital by G. Lucitke, Broad-st., Menasha.

Beltz said Thursday he was on his way to Chicago to meet his wife visiting a sister who was sick. He picked up Nichols and Gillespie to give them a "lift" to St. Joseph.

The rear end of Cepelick's car was damaged considerably and Beltz's car was totally wrecked.

ALL CALIFORNIAN DAMS WILL BE INVESTIGATED

Los Angeles—(P)—As the coroner's inquiry into the collapse of St. Francisco dam entered its final stages today, investigation of the Mullholland dam, above Hollywood, a "big brother" of the ill-starred structure, was begun and all other dams in California were under a faint trace of official suspicion.

Both the city of Los Angeles and the district attorney's office announced that engineers and geologists would examine the Mullholland dam, which impounds a large body of water in the valley above the famous motion metropolis.

Bert E. Meek, state director of public works, recommended to the governor's council in Sacramento Wednesday that an engineer be appointed to inspect all dams in California and report to the state.

Bureau engineers testifying at the inquest have declared that the Hollywood structure is sound.

SWEETHEART SLAYER GETS LIFE SENTENCE

Fau Claire—(P)—John Walters, 20, who slew his sweetheart Nora Peters,

day was sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary by Circuit Judge James E. Wickman.

BORAH URGES STRONG STANDS ON BIG ISSUE

Unless Favorable to Prohibition, Administration Is Indifferent to Law

Washington—(P)—Republicans and Democrats alike were under fresh warning Thursday by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, that unless they write prohibition enforcement
plans in their convention platforms they will incur the risk of being indifferent to the law and therefore helpful to the "un-American nationalists."

In a radio address Wednesday night, the Idaho senator declared that "at a time
when the constitution is openly assailed and persistently denied, nothing could be more discouraging or more demoralizing than for the dominant political parties to remain silent and thereby connive with those whose open and announced purpose is to break down and nullify the constitution."

Recurrent reference was made to the oil cases although no specific mention was given to the Idahoan's "red hot drive for funds to repay Harry F. Sinclair, lessee of Teapot Dome, the $150,000 in Continental Trading
Co. bonds he donated to the Republican party in 1923 to help extinguish the $100,000 deficit. Sinclair, Borah said, would not be at the coming Republican convention.

He predicted his party undoubtedly would denounce corruption and said that "insofar as an indignant resolution can purge the party and set the oil case on the general agenda, that we will do whether at the same time we dare not defend and decide to continue to be under obligation to those we denounce, time alone can tell."

Continuing on the subject of corruption, Borah asserted that the "one great issue of political power stands discredited and derided, and trusted agents enter into a conspiracy with the bribe giver and the despoiler, not only to betray the rank and file of the party, but to exploit the nation's natural wealth and compromise the national honor."

Declaring that the plan of certain powerful influences in both parties to avoid the issues and thereby withhold from the voters a showdown on the question of prohibition enforcement, Borah said that "if avoiding the issue in campaign was all the available was to do it would not be so serious."

"But the same influences which will make the political party apathetic will make the administration indifferent," he added.

MOB ATTEMPTS TO TAKE SLAYER OF IOWA WOMAN

Des Moines, Iowa—(P)—Deputy sheriff, armed with slingshots and tear gas, stood double guard Thursday over Dewey Doss, confessed slayer of Mrs. Martha Smith, 82-year old farmer's wife of Rising Sun, Iowa, they sought to prevent any repetition of two unsuccessful attempts made last week by the assassin, a deserted sailor from Fort Snelling, to escape from the sheriff who was returning him from Detroit, Mo., where he was arrested Sunday.

An attempt to obtain custody of the prisoner had been made when a group of men, headed by Otto and Leslie Smith, sons of the slain woman, boarded the train at Rummel, Iowa, and demanded that Doss be turned over to them. They were ejected from the train under threats from Sheriff Paul Findley that "the first man to step on this platform will be killed."

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

La Crosse—(P)—Dr. William Hall, Physician in Chief, physician, entered a plea of not guilty to charge of second degree manslaughter when arraigned before Judge J. F. Dolan in county court here Wednesday.

Bail was set at $4,000 and preliminary hearing set for Monday. Dr.
Hall was arrested on Tuesday on a charge made by Dr. Robert E. Flynn, head of the medical board of examiners,
that a La Crosse girl had died from an illegal operation performed by Dr. Hall.

FIVE MEN MAROONED ON ICE-BOUND BOAT

Port Dover, Ont.—(P)—Five men are marooned on the tug Algonquin in an ice field off Long Point Thursday. Apparently they had little fuel and no food. They had been there since Friday.

Tugs failed in efforts to break through the ice to carry food to the men.

CHOOSE MENOMINEE AS NORTH TERMINAL OF LOCAL AIR FIRM

Menominee, Mich.—(P)—Menominee will become the northern terminal of the Chicago air service operated by the North American Airways Co. of Appleton, Wis., on completion of plans agreed on Wednesday at a conference of city officials with aircraft company representatives.

The Chicago air service, according to Karl M. Haugen, president and general manager of the airways company, will include landing at Green Bay, Appleton, St. Louis and Milwaukee with feeder lines from the east and west.

An option has been obtained on a farm five miles north of Menominee for a landing field.

ELABORATE STILL SEIZED AT BOVINA

Ray Spear, Owner, Pays
$500 Fine When He Admits Breaking Prohibition Law

One of the most elaborate and complicated distilling plants ever found in Ontario was discovered by state prohibition agents and sheriff's deputies on a farm about a mile west of Shiloah Wednesday afternoon. The plant, used for manufacturing alcohol, had a capacity of about 200 gallons a day.

Ray Spear, occupant of the house
in which the still was found, pleaded guilty of violating the liquor laws before Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Thursday morning and was fined $500 and costs. Spear had not paid the fine up to noon, although he said he had the money.

While Spear was arrested as the owner of the still he said he moved on the farm last September and was renting the property from Sam Hinjum, the owner. Hinjum also is inpector of the Log Cabin Inn at Per-mont.

SEIZE ALCOHOL
More than 200 gallons of alcohol was confiscated by Sheriff Otto Zuphke and taken to the county jail at Appleton in cars by sheriff's deputies. About 700 gallons of alcohol was dumped on the ground. Three men were left at the house.

HALDEMAN, STINSON STILL ON AIR ROUTE

Jacksonville, Fla.—(P)—Three biplane, and orange monoplane, pulling easily back and forth across its appointed 30-mile strip of seashore, Eddie Stinson and Captain George Haldeman Thursday entered well into the second day of their attempt to set a new world record for sustained flight.
At 11 o'clock the biplane had been in the air more than 27 hours.

Since 7:37 Wednesday morning the two pilots have "spelled" each other at the controls of the big Stinson-Detroit-plane, driving it through perfect weather toward their estimated goal of 55 hours in the air.

Pilots and mechanics who went up by air alongside the Haldeman-Stinson plane and observe its behavior stated that it seemed in perfect fettle.

Four whole fried chickens were prepared by the pair to provide precise residence for meals in the air. Oil, or quids, included six lemons, six oranges, a dozen sandwiches for each pilot and a thermos bottle of soup. Coffee, water and three quarts of milk were the portable ration.

The new combination would be at liberty to adopt any plan. Under the Red Bull the Mississippi river commissioners present in charge of the river
would be abolished.

MURDERER OF THREE GETS DEATH SENTENCE

San Angelo, Tex.—(P)—Newton
Bernes, 24, who confessed he slew three members of the family which employed him as chauffeur, was convicted of murder by a jury late Wednesday and the penalty fixed at death.

Myra Jurgens, 12, and her mother, Mrs. W. A. Jurgens and Mrs. W. A.
Jurgens, mother of Mrs. Jurgens, were slain with a bullet in their home March 3. Bernes said he killed them after a quarrel. He had been employed as chauffeur of the family for four years.

Last Minute Bulletins

Milwaukee—(P)—The right of a defendant to a jury trial in a contempt of court action where a criminal offense is alleged was recognized during a hearing Thursday on the Allen-Army strike cases before Judge F. A.
Geiger of the United States court here.

St. Paul, Minn.—(P)—Postoffice inspectors Thursday were investigating the story of E. W. Edel, who after pleading guilty to a charge of forging postoffice money orders, outlined his career which included a trial for murder, a term in Sing Sing prison for robbery and the acquaintance of several women, one of them a New York actress who was murdered.

Merrill—(P)—Harry Litke of Merrill was acquitted late Wednesday by a jury of a charge of breaking into and robbing the soft drink parlor of Frank Chatter Feb. 21. The evidence was entirely circumstantial. Change and cigarettes were found upon him but the state was unable to prove it.
He was taken from the store.

Jacksonville Beach, Fla.—(P)—Moft thirty hours at 1:35 p. m. and well beyond the half way mark of their projected 55-hour world's endurance record flight, Captain George Haldean and Eddie Stinson continued to fly easily over their thirty-mile course Thursday. They varied the mono-type of their beach course patrol Thursday morning, flying over Jacksonville

HOUSE FLOODS GROUP FAVORS FEDERAL HELP

Approves $473,000,000 Reid Bill, Asks Government to Pay All Flood Costs

Washington—(P)—Standing squarely on the policy that the government should bear all cost for guarding outlets of the Mississippi river valley against floods, the house flood control committee Thursday made a formal report on the $473,000,000 Reid bill which was approved a month ago.

The report on the proposal for a gi-gantic flood control project came into the house along with the $525,000,000
bill, also providing flood control funds from the federal treasury which was passed Wednesday by the senate.

The majority report, approved by seven members of the committee, presented a voluminous argument of nearly 100 pages in support of the major proposal for full federal payment, and of the establishment of a new Mississippi river commission to carry out the work.

MINORITY REPORT
The views of those members of the committee who disapproved the Reid bill were presented simultaneously in a minority report signed by six Republicans, headed by Representative Karl M. Haugen. This report set forth contention that the vast sum should contribute some of the cost of control work.

One of the leading features of the majority report was the criticism leveled at Major General Edgar Jadwin, chief of the army engineers, who was charged with having neglected duties of the Mississippi river commission in preparing the administration's flood control plan.

The army engineer was upheld,
however, by the minority report which found that he had recommended
the best possible project for immediate remedy of the problem.

The majority report set out that under the law by which the government undertakes flood control works, a policy of "no pay, no protection" is presented. It added that the national defense, not domestic protection, is the basis of the law and that the administration of the mails and interstate commerce and navigation were sufficient justification for the federal government to assume the entire cost of such responsibility.

The minority report declared that "local conditions must be considered from the communities interested in the work and protection against waste and inefficiency." It also based its conclusion of local payments on the "increased value of the lands in the valley through protection."

Although the minority viewpoint had characterized the Reid bill as "offering no basis for a definite flood control plan," the majority report expressly emphasized that it did not aim to lay down an engineering program, but would designate powers to the commission, composed of four civil engineers and three army engineers.

The new commission would be at liberty to adopt any plan. Under the Reid bill the Mississippi river commissioners present in charge of the river
would be abolished.

GREEN UNDECIDED ON SUCCESSOR TO FERRIS

Lansing, Mich.—(P)—Gov. Fred Green has not yet definitely decided upon a successor to Senator Woodward, who died in Washington Wednesday. In making this announcement Thursday the governor intimated the appointment will be made in a day or two.

Indications were that his choice lay between Arthur H. Vandenberg, Grand Rapids publisher and Joseph
W. C. Sullivan, former congressman.

It was noted that he had a family of four children, which included his son, Arthur Vandenberg, who died in the summer, gave evidence to the believe that the Grand Rapids man will be the next senator.

PRINCE WINS RACE IN SPITE OF SEVERE FALL

Freshman, Surrey, Eng.—(P)—Despite being thrown by a favorite hunter, Miss Muffet, 11, during the highland brigade steeplechase meeting at Stockton Thursday the Prince of Wales remounted and won the race.

Weather conditions for racing were atrocious with heavy wind and a pouring rain. Making the race practically impossible, however, the Prince won handily.

CENTERS ON DANIELS

Reviewing what he described as some of the salient facts regarding oil leases, Robinson first centered his attack on Josephus Daniels, naval secretary in the "Wilson cabinet."

He claimed it was known that Daniels, along with others of the former Wilson cabinet were running for cover and leasing futile deals of their complicity in leasing
the oil reserves of the United States.
The Indiana senator said that as soon as President Wilson approved the leasing of oil, Feb. 23, 1920, then Daniels suggested to congress that the law be amended "so as to give him absolute power to be used in his discretion, all over the naval oil reserves existing then or which should be created hereafter."

No one can claim that this proposition was in the interest of conserving the oil that was in the grounds," Robinson shouted.

No sooner was the amendment which he wrote and which the Democratic senators in this body supported, operative, than he began to permit

LETTER GOLF

ONE FOR STARS
Stars make the change from STAGE to FILMS awfully fast sometimes, but here it's hard to do in less than eight leaps. One solution is on page 12.

THE RULES
1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.
2—You can change only one letter of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
3—You must have a complete word, at a time.
4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

Good Trout Lines Help But Others Catch Fish

BY E. A. CLARIN
In view of the proximity of the trout season—only six weeks hence—following a custom of long years standing, we are now giving attention to our tools for the coming campaign. There is an old saying that anticipation is greater than realization. This undoubtedly is true, however, were it not for this anticipation many an outfit would be neglected. One of these would result a great scramble at the eleventh hour for new lines and flies that might not be available at such a short notice.

Speaking of lines, after a rod, they are of first importance. To the novice a line is a line whether it be a vacuum dressed, tapered silk costing twelve dollars or a five-cent cotton twist such as is usually carried by the country store keeper. The novice is right where the line is to be used for trying bullheads out of the old "dead line," but now we are considering equipment for the finer art of trout fishing; and that equipment must be properly adapted, and of the best to be had if advancement and success are to be hoped for in the really fine art of fly fishing.

Let us assume that an enameled, tapered line has been acquired, size K for a five ounce rod, if you are to get your flies out to any distance with ease and facility. In natural sequence you will want a six or better yet, a nine foot leader. This will be of silk and not too heavy, even though you use wet flies.

As for patterns of flies best adapted for May fishing we will mention the following as a few of the most successful: Red Spinner, Professor, Yellow Dun, King and Queen of the Waters. These patterns are adapted chiefly for their resemblance to insects prevalent on the streams at this early stage of the season.

Some of the requisites for success which we have learned from years of experience to be these: Use flies having red hackle when the water is discolored by rain; a Black Gnat or Blue Dun in cold or stormy weather—these are especially effective after sun-down; the Coachman is the most successful all-year fly although it is purely a fancy pattern, that is, it imitates no known insect.

COUNTY TRAFFIC LAWS CONFORM WITH STATE, LONSDORF DECLARES

Expect New Ruling Will Boost Number of Arrests for Reckless Driving

Outagamie-co's ordinance governing automobile traffic on county highways conforms with the new state laws and cannot be changed despite a recent opinion of the attorney general that a maximum speed limit has been eliminated under the new statutes, according to John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney.

Mr. Lonsdorf said the state law does provide, however, that if a motorist is driving recklessly, even if he is traveling less than 40 miles an hour, he can be taken into court and fined.

"It is likely that the attorney general's recent opinion will decrease the number of arrests for speeding but it also will increase the number of arrests for reckless driving," Mr. Lonsdorf said.

A thorough study of the law will be made by Mr. Lonsdorf who said he wanted to be absolutely certain of every case he brought into court. He said Outagamie-co's traffic ordinances which were adopted at the last session of the county board, had been patterned after the state laws.

"I believe a reckless driving law similar to the one now in effect in Michigan is better than a speed-limit law," the district attorney said. "Some men can drive with greater safety at 50 miles an hour than some at 20 or 30."

"While driving at 40 miles or more an hour might be considered reckless driving if the highway was congested there are certain conditions under which a similar speed could not be termed reckless, as for instance late at night when traffic is very light," Mr. Lonsdorf pointed out.

The law as it applies to cities however, is clearly defined. Mr. Lonsdorf said, because specific conditions are mentioned for municipalities and if a driver exceeds the limit set in any of these conditions he is subject to arrest, Mr. Lonsdorf believes.

Following are some of the conditions provided for in the new statutes regarding driving in cities:

"Fifteen miles an hour when approaching within 50 feet and in traversing an intersection of highways when the driver's view is obstructed."

A driver's view shall be deemed to be obstructed when at any time during the last 50 feet of his approach to such intersection he does not have a clear view and uninterrupted view of such intersection and of the traffic upon all of the highways entering such intersection for a distance of 200 feet from such intersection;

"Twenty miles an hour on any highway in a business district when traffic on such highway is controlled by traffic officers or automatic sig-

Madison—(P)—A famous detective character of fiction solved murder mysteries by meditating on them while he smoked several ounces of strong tobacco in a long curved pipe. Dr. C. W. Muehlberger, state toxicologist, solves them by chemical analyses in his laboratory at the University of Wisconsin.

District attorneys, coroners and sheriffs call on Dr. Muehlberger for help when they suspect that citizens of their community have died from poisoning. Nearly every week, news dispatches from a Wisconsin city, under which a person has died under suspicious circumstances, say "the vital organs will be sent to Dr. C. A. Muehlberger, Madison, for examination for evidence of poisoning."

But his analyses are not confined to organs of human bodies. County agents, farmers, dairymen call on him to determine the cause of death to cattle.

An old wreck of a gasoline launch caused the death of six valuable Holstein cows by a farmer in the Lake Winnebago region.

The farmer, finding the old hull ashore, chopped it up and burned it in his kitchen stove. To add minerals to his dairy rations, he mixed wood ashes with the silage. A few days later six of his best cows died.

The county agent sent some of the ashes, as well as the stomach of a dead cow to Dr. Muehlberger. Analysis showed that the cow had died of lead poisoning; the several coats of paint on the old boat had made the wood ashes deadly.

UNIFORM PROGRAM OF REFORESTATION IS NAGLER'S PLAN

State Conservation Director Outlines Ideas at Forestry Conference

Milwaukee—(P)—Rehabilitation of denuded forests of the state will be brought about much quicker if human hands and the processes of nature, declared Louis B. Nagler, state conservation director Thursday in urging a reforestation program in which all government units and private interests work together with the state assuming responsibility for its success.

Mr. Nagler spoke this morning at the second day's session of the Wisconsin Commercial Forestry conference on "The State Responsibility in a Commercial Reforestation Program."

The rehabilitation of our denuded forest lands, he said, cannot be left to the slow and as it seems to us inefficient processes of nature. To do this would be as unwise as to leave fields uncultivated and unplanted. Nature is truly wonderful but she performs greater wonders with the aid of human hands guided by knowledge and experience. If the lands are artificially planted and properly protected these lands may produce another crop within the span of a single life time.

Under the forest crop law, the state has become a partner of the private land owner in growing new trees, and will go a step further, Mr. Nagler indicated, by providing young nursery stock either free or at nominal cost.

The state operates a nursery for coniferous trees at Trout Lake which it hopes to enlarge, and the conservation commission contemplates the establishment of a nursery for deciduous trees in the southern part of the forest area.

Mr. Nagler declared that the problem of reforestation cannot be left to the whim or caprice of individual land owners.

There must be a definite program to be followed uniformly and the state must assume the responsibility for its success, the conservation director declared.

He suggested that if the state, counties, municipalities and private citizens will adopt a common policy and attack the problem with enthusiasm and cooperation "we may confidently expect we shall be able to point to our thriving young forests at the close of another decade with the same pride of achievement we experienced in the success of our highway program."

Many houseboats on famed Loch Lomond were submerged during recent gales and rains in Scotland.

Thomas D. Taggart Notes Preference for Luckies at French Lick Springs

"During the course of the season I have an opportunity to study hundreds of people from all over the country who come to the French Lick Springs Hotel. My favorite has always been Lucky Strikes. The Universal Opinion seems to be that these Cigarettes have a flavor which gives the utmost pleasure in smoking. Furthermore, the constant use of Lucky Strikes does not irritate the throat and prevents all coughing."

The Cream of the Tobacco Crop

"I have been buying tobacco for Lucky Strike Cigarettes for several years and I buy only the best, 'The Cream of the Crop.' Lucky Strike is the cigarette once tried, always used."

WISCONSIN WEATHER

Probably for tonight and Friday with clouds, continued cold. The low temperature yesterday over the southern part of the state has now moved to the lower Mississippi valley. A light precipitation has been over the valley and over the extreme southern lake region. It promises to be a cold but not a very likely to affect this section. A high pressure area over the north is developing and should be the predominant influence in weather conditions in this section tonight and Friday with generally fair and cool weather, though there may be some cloudiness.

Mrs. Fred Rolfe who has been visiting in Appleton is the cousin of the late Miss Louise Paul. She is in Appleton.

Cured Himself of Hay Fever

For 17 years I suffered desperately from hay fever. Then I discovered a formula which cured me. The treatment contains no opiates nor habit-forming drugs and can be used without the slightest inconvenience but possibly must be started at this time of the year. There is an unknown condition about hay fever which causes it to be pronounced incurable. I shall be glad to tell you free of charge about this condition how I cured myself and the wonderful results others have had from this discovery. Send me your name and address today. R. O. "BIRDS OF A FEATHER"

What could be more appropriate in approaching an election than to test out the strength and staying qualities of all possible candidates with a general drubbing? Unless a man can stand to be called a scoundrel though his life has been fair and honest, a thief though he has never stolen, a traitor though he has ever been loyal, he is hardly fit to occupy office, certainly not as high an office as president. We must have men with rhinoceros hides.

Senator Robinson, Klan Republican of Indiana, started the ball rolling in accusing Al Smith of oil taint and other reprehensible conduct because eight years ago Smith appointed Sinclair a member of the New York racing commission. Certainly the race track business ought to just suit Harry's peculiar and particular conception of morals, but Robinson said, "Birds of a feather flock together," and the implication made Smith's friends mad.

Answering Robinson, one of Smith's friends read to the senate a list of Indiana Republican officials who had been sent to prison. It was a long list. "Birds of a feather flock together." The more the expression was repeated the more uncomfortable became Robinson. One Indiana governor leaves his cell in Leavenworth only to make room for another on his way. They are all friends of Robinson. "Birds of a feather flock together." Robinson had dropped a rather apt quotation.

Even honest, rugged Senator Walsh cannot expect to be a candidate for the presidency and escape the merry American pastime of flinging slime. It was brought out that one of the proposed Walsh delegates in California knows a man who was once sent to speak to one of the lawyers who defended Doheny. Enough. "Birds of a feather flock together." When Walsh jumped to his feet to ask if the speaker meant to infer that he, Walsh, was soiled with oil the speaker adroitly answered that he meant to infer nothing, he merely spoke facts. "I understand perfectly well what you are doing," retorted Walsh, "You will not say an improper inference can be drawn but you are perfectly willing that the public outside shall draw that inference." Walsh has an uncanny method of hitting the nail straight on the head.

In the meantime, in Chicago, Bigbill, author of "America First", enemy of kings and savior of his country, is going to make Coolidge run again. His slogan is "Draft Coolidge." During the war Bigbill didn't have much use for the draft but it's a different thing in peacetime. If Coolidge can keep a straight face over this one what a wonderful poker player was spoiled when he took to the White House. Bigbill wants Coolidge because he is sure the Democrats are going to nominate King George and we must beat the royal candidate and avoid the British yoke.

Senator Willis is campaigning in Ohio for himself for the presidency. There isn't much likelihood that we will have another president from Ohio for sometime. Willis is aiming his darts at Hoover. Lots of people thought Hoover did great work during the war but Willis claims that Hoover has been a flop, a dud, a dismal failure, that all he did was systematize our vast work abroad, doling out food, protecting interests of Americans, but never made a speech. How can a man be much of a president unless he forms the habit of talking until purple in the face? And Hoover is extremely unfriendly to the farmer and chokes with rage at the mere sight of a working man. Have no doubt about that for Willis has spoken.

You may be sure the rest of the country is not going to let Wisconsin put on the only show. Other states are envious of the spotlight playing continually on this fair garden. Senator Blaine is undertaking one of the greatest feats of his butterfly career, more mysterious by far than having a rabbit pulled out of your car. He is going to swing Wisconsin, a state that votes four to one for beer, for Norris of dry fame. "Birds of a feather flock together." Attorney General Reynolds says the employers are browbeating their employees. Who? Which one? Who would be so unkind as to embarrass the gentleman with such pointed questions.

We are only waiting for kidnapper Hickman to say that if he's alive and free at the next election he will vote for Lowden or Dawes or Reed. That's enough. "Birds of a feather—" Shades of Barnum and Ringling Brothers!

Wot a life! Wot a life!

ELECTRICITY SCORES AGAIN

Beyond a doubt within a comparatively short time our garden patches will be providing our tables with green vegetables the year around. Even now the fresh green vegetables that but a generation ago were almost unknown in the winter markets have because of improved transportation facilities become the rule rather than the exception, and at little if any increase in price and almost as fresh and crisp as when gathered.

But we are indebted to Sweden for a new process by which we may make our own garden patches supply these winter delicacies for our tables. Sweden demonstrates that vegetables can be produced even above the Arctic circle by running electric current through the soil in glass covered areas. Growing lettuce and tomatoes and potatoes and beans by electricity is the latest word in gardening in Sweden. Experts assert that the project is no longer in the experimental stage, but on a practical scientific basis. If electrifying the soil will permit produce to be grown in the Arctic, it could be employed to grow produce in our gardens in the winter. Using a combination of electrification of the soil combined with heat and light furnished by electricity, in effect furnishing an artificial sun, have been found by experts to make it not only possible but commercially profitable to thus grow produce either for private growers or for those grown for the market.

To be sure, electricity is much cheaper in Sweden than in this country, being generated by rivers and waterfalls, but with rapid expansion of like power production in this country no doubt the cost to the consumer will be reduced to a point where it will be economically possible and profitable to adopt Sweden's new method.

THIRTEEN-DAY WORLD FLIGHT

"Around the world in thirteen days" is the slogan of Dr. Hugo Eckener, head of the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen, Germany, the man who piloted the Zeppelin ZR-3 across the Atlantic Ocean to America in 1924, who expects shortly to complete a new airship with which he hopes to realize his dream of flying around the world. After preliminary flights to determine if she is capable of the more ambitious work expected of her, the airship will start east across Asia, the Pacific ocean, North America, the Atlantic ocean and Europe, back to the place of beginning. Dr. Eckener confidently believes she will do this; that she will break all records in achievement in the air, and place the airship definitely ahead of the airplane as an aerial carrier over long distances. He not only confidently expects her to accomplish this feat, but he expects her to accomplish it in the unbelievably short space of thirteen days.

Preliminary flights over Europe will be followed by flights between Spain and Argentine, arrangements for which have already been made, and other over-sea trips as yet undecided upon, when the huge 770 ft. long monster will head into the east toward Vladivostok, in eastern Siberia, its first stop. From there it will head across the Pacific to either Vancouver or Los Angeles. It is not now thought that more than these two stops will be made, but should it be thought expedient, another or third stop may be made on the east coast of America.

The ship cannot be completed before July, and it is said there will be no undue haste in her trial flights, but that every precaution will be taken to prepare her for a successful flight when the time shall be thought propitious for her great adventure. Such an accomplishment will be beyond and above the lines drawn by race or nation, it will be a world victory, another mile post to mark the forward march of man.

Former Mayor Hyman of New York coined the word "graftocrat" in recent testimony during a transit investigation. Just to give everybody an even break, he should have made it "regeneration."

Another man, claimed to be the original Tom Sawyer, is dead out west. But he haven't heard of the death of the last of those who knew Abraham Lincoln.

Well, now that the campaigns are under way, isn't it remarkable how many candidates are agreed that the laws should be enforced while they are on the books?

AN OUTLINE OF HYGIENE

22.—CAUSES OF FEEBLE MINDEDNESS
In the dark ages insane people were cruelly treated. "Asylums" are still associated in our mind with a shudder. Some savage races abandoned sick, aged or physically deformed or defective members to their fate. In our own country we show more or less sympathy, even kindness, for our physically defective members, indeed we sometimes pay them honors and hold them in great respect in spite of their physical deficiency. But we still have the old savage instinct to abandon mental defectives to their fate. Every city or almost every village nowadays provides for the physically defective, injured or sick, as a matter of common decency. But let a member of the community develop a mental deficiency or sickness and the community provides nothing for him—no one would care to have him in the state, some. Then the city passes the buck to the state, when it comes to dealing with citizens who happen to be sick in the mind. This is in effect cruelty to these unfortunate, and it is cruelty inspired, of course, by the same ignorance and superstition that prompts the savage to abandon his sick mother or child to the wild beasts or to perish from neglect.

It is only within the last few years that we have had some feeble new statutes requiring civic communities to provide some sort of halfway decent accommodations for the detainment of persons who are insane or who are under observation as regards sanity. What we need now is some good citizen with the gumption and spirit to bring suit against the city or town that fails to complete these laws and claps an insane or presumably insane person into a jail cell, after the customary savage fashion.

Institutions for the care of feeble minded persons are fairly well provided by the state, but only for imbeciles and idiots, who constitute but a minor share of the feeble minded population. An idiot is a person whose mental age is not more than 2 years (Binet-Simon scale for measuring intelligence) and who is therefore unable to guard himself against common physical dangers. An imbecile is a person whose mental age is from 3 to 7 years, inclusive, and who is therefore incapable of managing himself or his affairs or of learning to do so. A moron is a person whose mental age is from 8 to 12 years, inclusive. Morons are ordinarily not recognized as mentally defective and not subject to state care or control. A moron may earn his living and be a good citizen under favorable circumstances, he is not capable of competing with his normal fellows or of managing himself and his affairs with ordinary prudence, but is not necessarily vicious or dangerous.

The causes of feeble mindedness are not shocks to the prospective mother, not bumps on the head in infancy, not miscegenation or consanguinity (marriage of relatives). Popular notions about these causes are as silly as the romantic development of "bravado" from sheer emotion.

The main causes of feeble mindedness are alcoholism or drug habits of either parent, epilepsy of either parent, morosity or insanity on either side of the family pedigree. Of course any grave injury of a child's brain may leave permanent mental defect. Congenital syphilis (syphilis present at birth) is sometimes a cause, though this is rarely a cause of feeble mindedness, considering the frequency of congenital syphilis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Prospective Nurses

Young women who contemplate the study of nursing (and for that matter young men who would like to become nurses or attendants) should first consult the family doctor, who knows the situation and can advise about a good training school. An applicant for admission to nurse training class is usually required to bring a certificate of health from the family physician, anyway. Formerly I have referred inquiries about training schools to one of the American Nurses Association, New York and Chicago, but this organization no longer gives such information, and so I can only offer a suggestion made by the American Nurse association, namely, that "each state has a board of nurse examiners which has a list of the accredited schools in the state. This list they will furnish to inquirers upon request, and only address necessary is "the board of nurse examiners," at the capital of the state. The schools vary in time required for training; some two years, some 2½ years, and others three years. The American Nurses association gathers all these lists into a book, issued every two years, called "The List of Schools of Nursing Accredited by the State Boards." This book is on sale at the American Nurses Association, 175 Seventh Avenue, New York City, but, if you ask me, young friends, why pay money for a book when your state board of nurse examiners will send you all the information free?

Holy Toity Nurses

As in the medical profession and the dental profession, the curse of the nursing is nursing. Holy toity business, overtraining, too much theoretical knowledge, abnormally prolonged courses of instruction, excessive time required in training. This modern departure makes darn poor doctors. I can testify to that. My impression is that it doesn't improve dentists any—at least, when I want a good dentist I do not seek a holy toity man. And the medical profession is practically useless in complaining against the evil of holy toity nursing.

Don't Be an Unpaid Maid Servant
Young women contemplating the study of nursing should be fairly warned against an abuse that exists. There is no question that a two year course turns out competent nurses. If you dawdle away three years and then get a position with a low compensation with one year of your time without fair compensation.

More than 12,000 men at Chicago struck for higher wages the previous day.

President Roosevelt was invited to participate in a novel wolf hunt while he was in Illinois on his western trip.

The old foot bridge that spanned Lave street opposite A. L. Smith's residence was removed that morning.

TEN YEARS AGO

Thursday, March 28, 1927

The battle of the Somme was expected to be the last of the great war. The British had 800,000 men ready for a counter drive.

More than 200 maple trees were being tapped by Plank Drinks, a farmer at Hampe's Corners. He expected to boil several hundred gallons of maple syrup.

Chief George Prim was in Chicago that day on business and Sergeant McCabe had one day vacation.

Employees of the Appleton post office gave a farewell party for Frank Schrimp, postal clerk, who was to leave the following morning for Camp Grant.

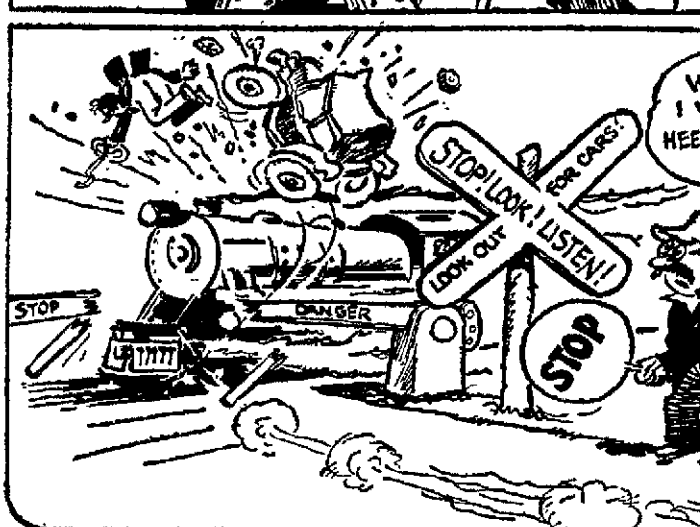

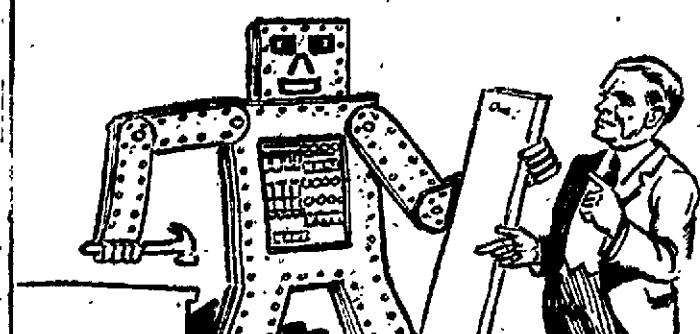

Twenty-five years ago that day, John Conway, J. H. Marston, C. W. WOMEN VOTERS TO MEET

Washington, D. C. — On the day that promises to be the most momentous in the preliminary presidential campaign this year the organized women voters of the country, as represented by the National League of Women Voters, will be holding their annual convention open April 23 for a six day session, and it is on Tuesday, April 24, that the primary election of delegates to national conventions will be held in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts. Upon the results of these primaries, particularly the one in Ohio, may hang the Republican nomination for the Presidency.

The League of Women Voters, as such, however, is not concerned about the result of primaries since it is non-partisan and never endorses candidates. But it is interested in getting women — and men, too — out to vote in primaries and in elections, and that will be one of the big topics on the program at the forthcoming convention, the announcement of which was held in the League's headquarters in the 1928 presidential campaign and her responsibilities toward government will claim the major attention of the politically inclined woman as they meet in Chicago, April 23, between 500 and 600 delegates are expected at the national convention, sending the 45 states in which the League is organized.

In selecting Chicago for its eighth annual convention, the League will return to the scene of its first convention. It was just eight years ago this month that the League was assembled first for a national meeting in conjunction with the fifty-first and final convention of the National American Women Suffrage Convention. It will be the third time the League has met in a midwestern city and State, other conventions having been held in Cleveland, Baltimore, Des Moines, Buffalo, Richmond, and St. Louis.

When the League held its first convention, Federal woman suffrage had not been granted, the nineteenth amendment to the Constitution not having become effective until August 26, 1920. "What eight years of suffrage" has meant to women voters of the country will be stressed in all sessions of the April meeting and special attention will be given to the progress women have made in the field of practical politics.

TO VOTE RESPONSIBLY

The League has formed with the immediate object of equipping women to cast an informed and conscientious ballot. It was announced at the time, "The political education of women in the intervening years," it is now stated, has deepened the meaning, responsibilities, and the obligations of their suffrage. The challenge to them to vote responsibly is more insistent to-day, though less clamorous, than in 1920."

In the eight years it has been in existence the League has had two presidents, Mrs. Maud Wood Park, of Portland, Maine, who served the first four years, and Miss Belle Sherwin, of Cleveland, now completing her second term. The other national officers at present are: Carrie Chapman Catt, honorary president; Katharine Ludington, Adele Clark, Ruth Morgan, Elizabeth J. Hauser, and Janet L. Ramsey, vice-presidents; Dorothy Ringland, secretary, and Alice G. Hixon, Treasurer.

Officers for the term, 1928-30, will be elected at Chicago. Mrs. George Gelborn, of St. Louis, is the chairman of the nominating committee, and it is stated that nominations should be sent to her before March 23, although additional nominations may be made from the floor of the convention.

In preparation for the convention a program of the work it is proposed that the League carry on for the next two years has been issued. It is divided into four heads — Efficiency in Government, Public Welfare in Government, Legal Status of Women, and International Cooperation to Preserve the Peace.

From the first come questions of nominations and elections, problems of administration, public finance, and public employment, and law making. Under the second, the divisions are child welfare, education, living costs, social hygiene, and woman in industry.

This program has been sent to the state leagues, which in turn will submit it to the locals for suggestions and comments. At Chicago a completion program will be agreed upon at preliminary meetings of executives and committees, and will then be presented to the national convention for final discussion and adoption.

ATTACK INDIFFERENCE AND IGNORANCE
"The National League of Women Voters is making a creative attack upon indifference and ignorance through training for citizenship and by supporting needed legislation," it is stated.

"The League believes in a program of education which prepares for action. It believes in a program which emphasizes practical methods in realizing ideals."

"The League believes that qualified women in administrative offices, upon boards and commissions, and in legislative bodies, will contribute a necessary point of view to government in the United States and to its international relations. The League, therefore, urges the principle of electing and appointing qualified women to positions in public state and local governments, and upon commissions and other bodies having international representation."

The League carries on its work through public meetings to consider special subjects, candidates' meetings, ballot-marking classes, study groups and rural tables, citizenship schools, institutes of government and politics, fact-finding groups, and through visiting legislative bodies, administrative boards, courts of law and public institutions. Conferences are held with public officials on special problems, with experts on technical questions, and with individual citizens or with special agencies, on community undertakings.

The League trains speakers and leaders for group discussions, publishes digests of laws, pamphlets on the subjects in its program, and bulletins reporting information and progress and it encourages participation by all qualified voters in every step of the processes by which public officials are nominated and elected, including caucuses, primaries, conventions, and elections.

Proportional representation is one of the new topics (or study recommended by the department of efficiency in government, and permanent registration is suggested under the heading, state legislation. In the way of Federal legislation the League is committed to supporting suffrage for residents of the District of Columbia and to opposing proposals which would make amending the constitution of the United States more difficult than it is at present.

A number of other new proposals are included in the tentative program, but none is a radical departure from the objectives toward which the League has been working heretofore. The special committee on immigration problems which was created in 1924, Mrs. Kenneth F. Rich, chairman, will submit a report to the convention meeting of the General Council on April 24, and the report later may be presented to the convention.

ST. MARK'S, VENICE, RESTORED
St. Mark's of Venice, Austria, is the first of the three national cathedrals of Europe to be restored. Workmen have just completed their task of 20 years in making it safe for use.

The cathedral was built in 1062 and decorated and faced with marble by the Venetians after the fall of Constantinople. The structure was very weak, however, and large cracks appeared in the wall. Workmen have been filling in the cracks, repairing the vault and replacing the damaged stones and mortar with concrete. The other cathedrals being restored are St. Paul's in London and that at Mayence, Germany.

See-Sawing On Broadway

By Gilbert Swan

New York—"There goes Kate."

My friend pointed her out to me at Broadway and Forty-second street.

"Kate who?"

But that's all there is; just Kate. During the years she has shambled along Broadway, always before her has been the vision of stardom. Always in her mind the big electric signs blazed with "Kate— in—"

Thirty years ago she came here from a small town in central Illinois. She could sing well, could speak Irish, could dance. She stormed the street. But there were so many others who could do these things just a little better.

She has appeared in perhaps a dozen shows in all these years—always in a minor part. She had to take the minor parts to start with and never could get beyond them. Perhaps you have seen Kate with a feather duster when the curtain rises on Act. Perhaps you have seen her as somebody's aunt who walked on and off the stage twice.

Poor Kate—with 30 years of dreams and still plugging along the old street! But maybe Kate is infinitely happier. . . . she doesn't have to stand on her feet all day in Boy's millinery back home. . . . she isn't some farmer's wife out milking the cows every morning while a lazy husband snores. . . . she isn't a nonentity after all, she is KATE!

Kate is one of the "bit" people—not that she has any of the force of time and evil circumstance in her flash, one of those who act in this show and that, always in small parts or "bits." They are a strange clan among the strange clans of Broadway.

A two or three-line speaking part . . . they are elated. It doesn't look like much, but it is a big chance. Then there are many whose ambitions go no farther than "bits." They have learned just enough in amateur theatricals to equip them for the job and they go serenely on about their trade. They are actors in the city, they are of the theater and there are scores among them who would not trade with the stars.

Q. Why is the oldest son of the King of England called the Prince of Wales? W. A. C.

A. When Edward I, King of England, annexed Wales in 1282 he conferred the title of Prince of Wales upon his son Edward, who happened to be born at Carnarvon in Wales during the period of occupation. It has since been customary to use this title for the King's eldest son and heir to the throne.

Q. How many feet will the sea rise in each tide? P.

A. The height of tides varies owing to the irregular shape and depth of the oceans and the obstructing land masses. In the open ocean the rise and fall of the tide is generally not more than 1 or 2 feet, but around the continents the rise may be as much as 20 feet or more. In narrowing estuaries, tides are often as high as 50 feet, as for instance at Bristol, England. In the Bay of Fundy tides sometimes reach a height of 60 feet. These are supposed to be the highest in the world.

Q. How long is the Hudson River? A. S. L.

A. It is about 300 miles long.

Q. How long has Contract Bridge been played? S. M.

A. About 15 years. Americans who went abroad found that players were experimenting with a form of contract bridge. About 1915 the Whist Club of New York considered codifying the game but decided that the time had not arrived to do so. Little more was heard of Contract until the summer of 1925 when it became very popular in Newport and Southampton. In the Fall its popularity spread to New York City. It is now played in all parts of the country.

CONGRESS PASSES SCHNEIDER'S BILL FOR DOOR-CO PARK

Measure, Now Before Senate, Would Be Sold to State for $1.25 Per Acre

The transfer of a tract of land in Door-co from the federal government to the state to be used for park purposes seems likely, according to word from Congressman George L. Schneider who took the measure before congress. The bill has passed the house and is awaiting action by the senate. The tract consists of 1,046.1 acres in Nasawaapee township and was, from 1837 to 1855, used as a stone quarry during the time ports were being built along Lake Michigan. The bill provides that the government may continue to take stone from any part of the tract at future dates.

Conditions of the bill are that the state pay the government $1.25 per acre for the land but that the land is to revert back to the government in case the state fails to keep the land for park purposes or devotes it to any use inconsistent with that purpose.

In passing the measure, Schneider describes the land as being ideally situated for a state park and said:

"The area may well be classified as one of the supreme scenic areas of the public domain. It forms a high plateau with two and three quarter miles of shore line. It is situated adjacent to the shore of Sturgeon Bay, overlooking Green Bay and Saugeen Harbor. Its elevation permits a view therefrom that is inspirational: islands, headlands, vast sweeps of bluffs, coves, bays, inlets, a variety of shore line, hill and valley, broad meadows, the largest cherry orchard in America on the shores of Sturgeon Bay, and Lake Michigan far in the rear all enter into this magnificent spectacle."

The land itself contains an extensive growth of hardwood, birch, pine, etc. broken by open stretches of meadow, replete with masses of tulip and daisies in season. The vegetation and evergreen-covered bluffs offer in themselves a panorama of interest.

"The waters along its shores are admirably adapted to boating and sailing. It is a fishing ground of rare excellence, and the opportunity for bathing is also excellent."

GIVE OUT INFORMATION ON STATE SOCIAL WORK

Madison—(P)—The Wisconsin Conference of Social Work is mailing to its members and to others interested in social welfare in Wisconsin a new booklet, to be issued quarterly hereafter, giving brief accounts of the organization's work and articles by prominent sociologists, educators and others who might become or are engaged in the field.

Items on community health laws and social progress, improvement of laws for children, and mental hygiene are part of the first issues of the "Bulletin" which is issued from the office of Aubrey Williams, Madison, secretary of the conference.

APPLETON'S FIRST MOUNTED POLICE SQUAD

According to George T. Pinn, chief of police, this is the first group of mounted police ever used by the Appleton police department. This group, headed by the chief, took part in the parade Wednesday evening, preceding the annual spring opening.

SLEEPING SICKNESS IS DEADLY DISEASE

Physicians Say Number of Fatalities Does Not Show
Its Real Danger

Madison—(P)—Wisconsin usually has between 100 and 200 cases of sleeping sickness yearly, according to the state board of health.

A recent census of sleeping sickness cases, taken by the medical school of the University of Wisconsin, showed that physicians throughout the state reported 846 cases of the malady that are being treated at the present time.

The board of health points out, however, that this report includes a number of cases over several years which have been left with residual defects and therefore suggests a higher total than the number of persons who are now actually suffering with the disease.

The disease was first recognized during the World war, the first cases being reported to the state board of health in 1921. The number of deaths in Wisconsin have been over 40 annually since 1921. The death rate has been estimated by medical authorities to be between 20 and 40 percent of the cases.

Sleeping sickness is held by the board of health to be more serious than the small number of deaths it causes indicates, for many cases develop troubles that leave the patient disabled after the disease itself has been checked.

The board of health suggests that many of the invalids resulting from sleeping sickness could be benefited by proper care and institutionalizing.

CHARGE OF CRUELTY TO FISH IN GERMAN COURT

Berlin—(P)—A trial for cruelty to a fish brought up the question whether fish are only stunned by a blow on the head, or killed outright, so that their subsequent movements are mere reflexes.

Faustine Dorothy Hinze, 70, who is a great lover of cats, bought a live fish for her pets and instructed the fishmonger, C. Berisch, to kill and prepare it for cooking on the spot. After the vendor of sea food had definitely delivered a smashing blow on the head of the fish, he started to scrape off the scales.

When she saw the fish still squirming in the man's hand, the old woman emitted a scream of horror, called him a brute and subsequently had him arraigned in the Charlottenburg court "for wanton cruelty."

The court, finding itself incompetent to judge of the vitality of fishes, called in two piscatorial experts, who testified that after a properly delivered blow on the head a fish is as dead as a door nail, and that its continuing motions are purely reflexory in character.

LEGION DISTRICT NEEDS BUT 228 MORE MEMBERS

Only 228 more members are needed by the ninth district of the American legion, of which Appleton is a part to put the district over the top in the membership drive which has been in progress since the first of the year. The state department of the legion needs 633 members to top the high mark for last year. Oney Johnson post, Appleton, already has gone over its last year mark with 621 members.

Definite information has not yet been received from the national department with reference to the state department winning the Lindsley trophy for having the largest percentage of regular quota on March 1. Returns from several foreign departments of the legion are still awaited before definite conclusions can be reached. All indications point to the fact that Wisconsin has won the cup, however.

PLENTY OF APPLESAUCE

Nobody gets any fun out of buying a tire, but every once in a while, it has to be done.

If you have a sense of humor (and lots of people do) you can get a big laugh out of buying a tire.

Just start out in Appleton, or any other town for that matter, and try to buy a tire. We'll promise you several hours of genuine entertainment.

Everyone claims to have the best. They can't all be right—but watch 'em do their stuff. Immense! Cut prices, bargains, discounts, deals, introductory offers, special sales, direct-to-consumer, "below cost" and lots of other applesauce.

But—you can cut through baffling claims and alluring offers by remembering this simple fact—the most outstanding fact in the tire business:

More People Ride on Goodyear Tires Than on Any Other Kind

Buying a tire isn't like buying food, clothing or shelter.

All tires look pretty much alike, and they are designed to do one thing. That's why it is so hard to make a selection.

Taste, style, size, color, harmony, changing seasons, the time o' day—these things have little to do with your choice of a tire.

Keep that simple statement about Goodyear Tires in mind. More people, year after year, keep buying Goodyears. The reason is because they give generously of those things people demand in tires.

Our fine courteous service plus Goodyear Tires is the final sure-fire answer to all your tire problems.

MARYE and MOM Their Letters

Dear Marye: What do I think? Marye Meredith, are you out of your head? You must think you're a middle-aged woman, calling young men who make love to you mere kids. And certainly you're to blame. If you weren't so sure that it's all right for you to do just as you please and flaunt all the old-fashioned conventions you would know that such a thing as a boy falling in love with a married woman does happen. It's because you want to eat your cake and have it too that you think you can run around with other men, whether they're boys or not, and expect them to forget that you're a very attractive young woman. I don't care what new-fangled ideas you try to have, but you can't get away from the fact that men, and women too, still continue to fall in love. If you had paid attention to what I said you'd have known that this young man meant something when he played up to that story you told the police officer. But it's my opinion that a lot of your fun would be spoiled if you didn't fool yourself with these modern ideas. Such little familiarities as that don't mean a thing to you—because you don't want them to. Well, my dear, you ate your cake when you got married and that ought to satisfy you. Hereafter let the single girls go to lunch and tea with such nice boys as Norman and "Bilby." It didn't take you long to call him by his first name, did it? Your cure for him may be as bad as the one you gave Norman. Ever since he's been home he's been drinking, I hear, and everyone says it's because he saw you in the city and they're all wondering what you did to him. His aunt wrote his sister about your going out with him and she spread it all over town. I do wish you'd be more careful, Marye. The best way to help a man forget you is to give him a chance. He can't do that if he sees you. I know you don't do anything to make yourself unattractive. And if your young friend

TREES AND PEOPLE SUCCESS-FAILURE

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON THE tale of floods continues. And woven into the tale is the mournful tragedy of the trees. Nature has taken a bitter revenge on man for the devastation of her children, the forests. Robert W. Chambers writes an article on re-forestation that I wish could be repeated here word for word. But it is only possible to quote a few of the gems. "It takes God a hundred years to grow a white pine. It takes a jack ass ten minutes to tell it. 'It requires centuries to clothe a mountain with noble foliage. A fool and his cigar can set it afire and destroy it in a day.' 'Not one in the thousand among us has thought to build for the remote future, and for the good of our children, their children and the general good.' 'After us the deluge.' 'What irony and truth in the latter statement. Literally it is the deluge indeed. It is well known that forests regulate rainfall, and also absorb much of the water that otherwise, in a denuded country, rushes to fill up streams that are already brimming. Other interesting things in Mr. Chambers' observations are: 'A sure sign of the decadence of a people is the decadence of their forests. Where forests fail, people fail.' 'Somewhere, and immediately, a beginning must be made.' He advises 'The national and state forests are but a pin point on a denuded map.' He suggests that a young couple, newly married, could do nothing better for an investment than to set out twenty or thirty thousand pine trees on land that will produce nothing else. Each year additional planting can be done. Other types of trees, too, can be put in. 'They will live to reap a fortune and their children will also share in the wonderful harvest.' It seems so plausible—so possible. There is much waste land, hilly land, all kinds of land, to be had ridiculously cheap. God does the rest. You have heard. 'Poems are made by fools like me, But only God can make a tree.' is jealous of your husband don't you think it would be more cruel to bring him into your home than just to drop him? With all my love, MOM

IDEAS FOR MOTHERS

"AMONG MY SOUVENIRS"

Household Hints

EGG FILLER If you have almost enough left-over meat for patties, creamed meat on toast or a baked supper dish, dice a couple of hard-boiled eggs for filler. PAINT SPOTS To remove paint or plaster spots from woodwork, either scratch off with a razor or use hot vinegar to sponge the spot clean. SEEDING RAISINS Before you start seeding raisins, pour boiling water over them, let stand a few minutes and then drain. The seeds will come out easily. STICKING WINDOWS To move a sticking window, pull the ropes at each side down as far as possible and let them go with a snap. Repeat several times. LUGGAGE RACK Make your guest room a luggage stool by painting a camp stool a gay color and using chintz for its seat. GARLIC TOUCH If cooking a cheap piece of meat, rub the dish with garlic and you will find the meat much more tasty and delectable.

Two Girls Live On Hot Water and Rice

Because of stomach trouble, Miss A. H. and sister lived on hot water and rice. But since taking Adlerika, they say, they can eat anything and feel fine. The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, saline, etc., (known as Adlerika), has a most surprising DOUBLE action. First, it acts on Both upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and removes foul matter that often poisoned the system for months. Second, Adlerika clears all GAS and sourness from stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adlerika moves metabolic poisons which cause neuritis, rheumatism, etc.

Two Girls Live On Hot Water and Rice

Dr. H. L. Shoup, New York, writes: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria and bacilli." Dr. J. Weaver: "In 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika." J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated." It will astonish you the great amounts of poisonous matter Adlerika brings out—matter you would never believe was in your system. In chronic constipation, gas bloating, sour stomach and sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adlerika brings wonderful relief. At leading druggists. Sold in Appleton by Volga's Drug Store, Schlitz Bros. Co. and other druggists.

A challenge to doubters! Make this personal health test and convince yourself!

THERE have been those who have doubted Postum's value to the average, normal man or woman—have called it "a drink for invalids". Then they made this personal health test. They drank Postum with their meals for thirty days in place of coffee beverages—and were convinced! Instead of tossing restlessly through half the night, they slept soundly. Instead of dragging irritably through the day, they were steady, alert. Headaches and indigestion disappeared. They ate better—felt better—looked better! Nor did they lose anything in mealtime enjoyment by this simple change in diet. They found Postum a hot, hearty drink with a rich, full-bodied flavor—a flavor millions prefer to that of any other drink! Make the test yourself! Don't wait for doctor's orders! Eliminate caffeine from your diet now—make Postum your mealtime drink for thirty days! Then measure your physical gains! Like the others, you'll become a Postum user for life! Your grocer has Postum in two forms—Instant Postum, made instantly in the cup, and Postum Cereal, the kind you boil. Both are the same wholesome drink—made of roasted whole wheat and bran. No trace of any artificial stimulant in them! Both cost much less than most other mealtime drinks. Order today!

"The Cost of Coffee"

1 1/2c per cup is only a small part of the cost of the meal. We all know that there has been an advance in the price of coffee. Like everything else, it costs more now than it used to. But even at that, it costs you comparatively less than most of the other good things on your table. As a matter of fact, Coffee for Home use costs you just about 1 1/2 cents per cup and this cost is only 1-20 or 1-10 of the total cost of the average meal, that isn't very much, is it? Our Sherman House Coffee will make more cups per pound than the average coffee, giving you a better coffee and also reducing the price per cup.

HOW TO FIGHT EXCESS FAT

There are hard ways, like starvation, but fewer and fewer employ them. There is a pleasant way, modern and scientific, which combats the cause. A vast number of people now use it. And the slender figures now seen everywhere are largely due to that.

That method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And everybody, in almost every circle, sees the change. New beauty, new health, new vitality.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So users have no fear of harm. Learn the facts about Marmola, because of the good it has done. Ask your druggist—now—for a $1 box with the book. Then decide.

The bids to be submitted will be split up so that each phase of the construction can be given close consideration by the executive board. The bids they will be able to ascertain accurately the component parts and their cost used in the construction. Bids again will be considered at a meeting April 4.

GOVERNOR DECLARES FORESTRY DEPENDS ON WILL OF PEOPLE

State Is Willing to Aid in Reforestation Program, Conference Is Told

Zimmerman

Milwaukee (P)—The future of forestry in Wisconsin depends largely upon citizens of the state looking upon the growing of timber as a crop, just as any other product of the land.

Governor Fred R. Zimmerman said in an address at a banquet of the Commercial Forestry Conference Wednesday night.

It is every farmer in the state one acre of timber were planted each year, it would result in 100,000 acres of timberland being added to the state annually, the Governor pointed out.

There are in the state 48 million acres of land classed as forest land, of which only 2 million acres is considered old virgin forest, the Governor said.

"Little of this remaining forest land is needed for agriculture, at least during our present generation. I look, therefore, to the time when this vast acreage of land will again be covered with the timber growing in the forests to the time when Wisconsin will regain a dominant position in timber production, a position such as she occupied when I was a boy."

NOT PLANTING ENOUGH

An average of one thousand acres is being planted to timber annually, he said, at which rate it will take seven thousand years to plant up the present area of denuded land, which amounts to seven million acres.

"We are cutting away the forest at the rate of 100,000 to 125,000 acres a year and are planting only 1,000 acres."

Governor Zimmerman characterized the forest crop law and the new conservation law as the most significant steps that have been taken in Wisconsin toward a real program of sane conservation of the national resources.

"The new forest crop law enlists the cooperation of every land owner, great and small, in the state. I see the counties of our state eager to cooperate in this great movement. I see the big owners of cut over lands coming into a keen realization of what this movement means to them and to the state."

He expressed himself as being heartily in favor of the establishment of federal forest reserves in the state. "I see a very definite place where the federal government can aid in the program of redemption of idle land. There is room for probably one million acres of national forests approximately distributed in suitable units through the parts of the state where timber production is obviously the highest use of land. We welcome the federal government in this work of forest reconstruction. We want it to set the pace in handling of forest lands."

STATE WILL HELP

But the private land owners must not leave the work of reforestation to state and federal governments, Governor Zimmerman urged. "Whatever the county, the state and federal governments can do is small compared with what private owners of forest lands must do themselves. The bulk of the land is in their hands. The traditional initiative that build up this country must show what it can do with the problem of reforestation."

"The state will try to help this constructive work by giving effective state-wide fire protection and by modifying the tax laws to encourage timber growing. It is a grave responsibility which I sincerely hope the private owners will discharge creditably and successfully. It is the challenge to the private land owners and they must not fail because if they do, the state and federal governments will have to step in and assume the entire responsibility."

"It will do our children little good to inherit the earth if the earth they inherit is cutover land. If we will treat our forest product as a crop and actually harvest timber rather than destroy it we will learn to produce as we consume."

carefully kept through the years. Some infantry regiments of the United States Army point with pride to an heroic record of close to 150 years. After the World war practically every military unit which participated was painted in glowing terms in an "official history" replete with photographs, diagrams and adjectives galore.

Next came the epic films of the war, this dealing with one branch of the service and that with another. And after ten years of more or less obscurity heretofore overlooked is to be recorded for all time in imperishable celluloid—the tank corps.

First National is taking to posterity this record of the courageous tank crews who battered their way to victory on the Somme, Amiens and Argonne battlefronts. It is called "The Patent Leather Kid," stars Richard Barthelmess and is at the Elhi Theatre for the last times today and Friday.

The picture is adapted from the thrilling story of the tanks by Rupert Hughes and months of research work was done that the picture be true to the traditions and high ideals of the tank service.

Greta Garbo in A GREAT PICTURE

Greta Garbo, famous Swedish film actress, who gained an American film following of millions with the release of her first American-made film, has reversed the usual order of things.

It is generally the misfortune of stars to bloom forth suddenly in splendid vehicles and to then be assigned inferior stories which rarely permit them to attain the height reached in their first great production.

Greta Garbo has had the good fortune to get a better story each time she appears on the screen and through this—add to her already sensational popularity.

In her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring production, "The Divine Woman," now playing at Fischer's Appleton Theatre, Miss Garbo is seen in the best picture of her entire film career. Her role as a French actress is even greater than it was in "Flesh and the Devil," "The Temptress," "Love," "That Torrent," and she uses no opportunity to show just what she can do.

In this production Miss Garbo draws quite a bit more sympathy than usual for her, while, at the same time, she acts as marvelously as she did in her preceding pictures. In addition to this, her new picture has a happy ending which is logical and much more to the liking of American audiences than tragic denouements.

For the first time in her entire film career Miss Garbo has a chance to show what she can do against a cheap and tawdry background in both the first and last sequences of the production. That she plays equally as well against these backgrounds as she does in the sequences of splendor and luxury proves that she is not a type actress at all, though most of her roles have smacked of the same flavor.

"The Divine Woman," was directed by Victor Sjöström and is based on the stage play, "Starlight," in which Doris Keane achieved remarkable success. Lars Hanson has the principal male role and surely makes the most of it.

CATCH 4TH MEMBER OF AUTO "THEFT RING"

Leo Cyrak, fourth member of a gang of auto thieves arrested in Appleton last week by Officer Carl Radtke and turned over to police in Milwaukee, was picked up Wednesday in Green Bay, according to word received by George T. Prip, chief of police. The three men arrested here last week told police that Cyrak was a member of the group and they furnished a description.

Three men were arrested here in an Essex sedan which they stole in Milwaukee in February. Officer Radtke arrested the men after a complaint that the trio had collided with another car on Highway 41 and failed to stop.

After reading of the account of the accident in Wednesday's Post-Crescent, Mrs. Helms called the police department and reported she was the driver of the car but she stopped after hitting the old man and he told her he wasn't injured and to drive on.

LAWRENCE PROFESSOR JUDGES RIPON DEBATE

Ripon—(A)—Despite the fact that Ripon and Lawrence college have been heated rivals for decades, a Lawrence professor, A. L. Frantze, head of the department of public speaking there, has been chosen to decide the fate of a Ripon college debate here tomorrow. Bruno E. Jacob, forensic manager, stated today.

Prof. Frantze will act as a single expert judge in a clash between three Ripon stars and a trio from the University of Redlands, Calif. The Nicaraguan question will be debated. Victory for Ripon will be considered the foremost forensic accomplishment of 1928, Jacob states, inasmuch as the California debaters are coached by Prof. Edgar Nichols, Ripon professor in 1912 who returns to his former college for the first time in 16 years.

The Ripon trio will make its only home appearance in the contest to be judged by Prof. Frantze. Henry Hultstrom, Chippewa Falls, is captain, with Richard Supple, Boyd, and Lloyd Wescott, Ripon, his teammates.

PROCLAIM MAY 1 AS

"CHILD HEALTH DAY"

Madison—(A)—Governor Fred R. Zimmerman has joined with President Coolidge in proclaiming May 1 "Child Health Day." He has appointed Dr. Cora S. Allen, Madison, as chairman for Wisconsin and urges that all citizens of the state observe the day by giving special attention to considerations which may improve the health and increase the happiness of children.

There were in 1926, the Governor's proclamation points out 2,200,000 births in the United States. In the same year, 165,000 infants died in the first year of life; 100,000 died in the first month of life, and more than 42 per cent died in the first two weeks of life.

"Immigration via the cradle," the proclamation says, "is the most desirable way to increase our population."

"Let us mobilize all our forces on Child Health Day, not only that children may be saved from hunger and accidents, but that they may be made impregnable to unnecessary disease."

"Let us make it possible through the presentation of facts which have been discovered through science, that no child in America shall be born except under proper conditions, that does not live under hygienic surroundings, that ever suffers from undernutrition and shall always have prompt and efficient medical attention.

HAVE KIDNEYS EXAMINED BY YOUR DOCTOR

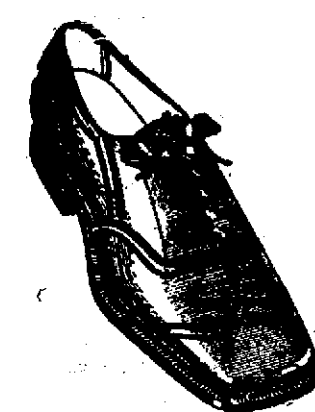

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys if Back Pains You or Bladder Bothers

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach aches, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

NO REASON TO FEAR BUSINESS BECAUSE OF ELECTION YEAR

Tradition Is the Only Thing That Gives Cause for Concern, Ayres Says

Cleveland—There is no reason on earth why a twentieth century American should look on a presidential election year as a bad year for business, according to Col. Leonard P. Ayres, vice president of the Cleveland Trust Company, and one of the most noted business experts in the country.

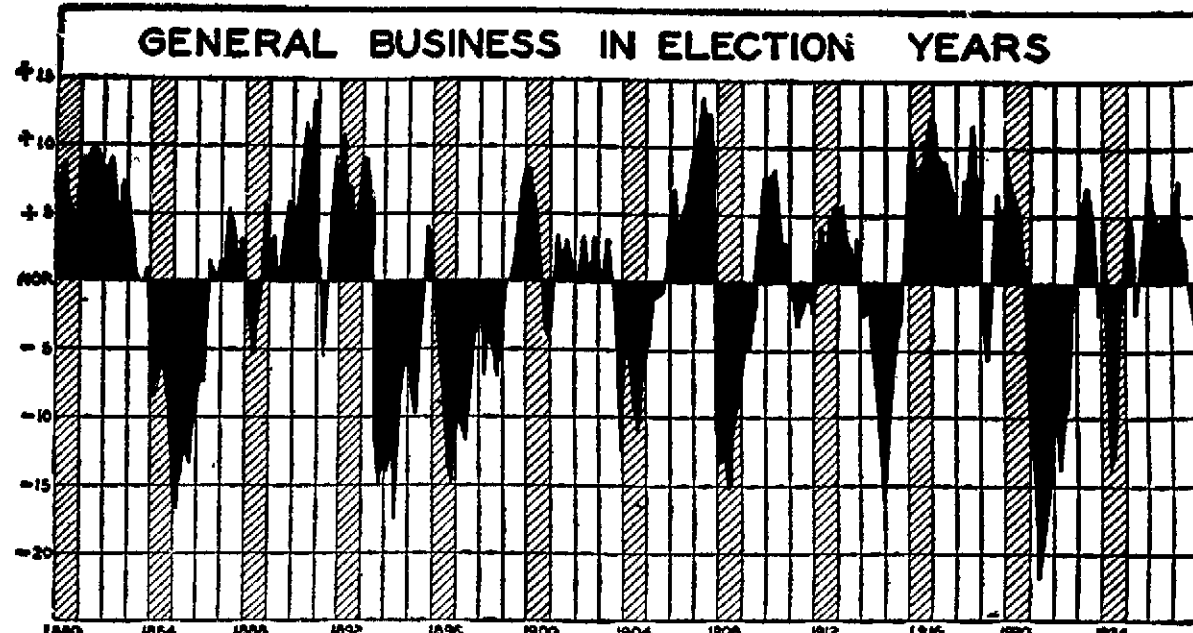

No reason—except tradition. Col. Ayres believes that the tradition is now so out of date and discredited that 1928 should see no slackening or timidity on the part of business.

GENERALLY IMPROVES
Furthermore, Col. Ayres has figures to show that, of the last 12 national election years, six were distinctly better than normal business years, five were below normal, and the other was about equally divided.

Thus Col. Ayres concludes that there is no natural economic reason for poor business in a presidential year, half of the time business is actually better than usual during the campaign.

The tradition of election-time depression, he admits, had a perfectly sound origin.

"For nearly a quarter of a century, up to 1904," he says, "each campaign found some party or candidate advocating some unsound financial theory. First we had the 'greenback'

This chart, showing the fluctuations in the volume of national business from 1880 to 1927, bears out Col. Ayres' contention that presidential elections have no constant bearing on the trend of industrial prosperity. The shaded spaces indicate campaign years.

men, then the free silver advocates. In each of those election years there was an issue that, if adopted, would have been bad for business.

"It was only natural, then, that in these days business men should be timid in election years."

"That's where the tradition came from. Business men of today were brought up on the idea that each presidential campaign year was a time for holding back. The need for such an attitude is gone, but the attitude, in many cases, persists. In fact, now and then it happens that this groundless feeling actually does bring about a temporary industrial letup. Men think that a presidential year will mean poor business. They act accordingly—and it's true because they think it is."

SEES UPWARD TREND
Col. Ayres is confident that 1928 will be a year of industrial advances. Such hesitancy as there is, he believes, is due to factors entirely separate from politics.

"Why should business be hesitant because of the coming campaign?" he asks. "Not one of the leading parties or candidates is advocating anything 'dangerous.' Not one is advocating anything unsound."

"Consider the three candidates who seem to be accorded the best chances by political forecasters—Hoover, Smith and Dawes. Would business have anything to fear from any of them?"

"Each one is experienced in the ways of business and sane in his attitude toward business. Gov. Smith, for example, has made his career in New York state, where the biggest organizations in the country have their headquarters. He has not harmed New York's prosperity as governor. "Take Secretary Hoover. His entire career has been spent in viewing business from a national point of view. And Vice President Dawes? He represents the solid conservative viewpoint of the great industrial middle west, as exemplified in Chicago."

RELIABLE FORECASTER
Col. Ayres is one of the keenest students of industry and finance in America, and his annual business forecasts are awaited with interest everywhere. He is optimistic about prospects for the coming year, and concludes:

"Business men are fully justified in facing the future with hope and confidence, despite the fact that nominations will be made, campaigns conducted and a president elected in 1928."

"METAL RUTS" USED FOR AUTO TRAFFIC

County Buys Device to Be Used Over Mud Holes and Other Bad Places

Two thousand feet of "metal ruts" for use on county roads where mudholes are impeding traffic arrived recently at the county barns and will be put into use soon, according to A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner.

The metal ruts are corrugated iron troughs held together by specially constructed cross-arms which hold the ruts into place and keep them from spreading or sinking. The sections are laid over mudholes and vehicles are thus enabled to cross without difficulty. The ruts are about 14 inches wide and come in sections ten feet long.

The cost of the ruts is about $3,400 or $17 per section, Mr. Brusewitz said. During spring break-up and on construction jobs, impassable road conditions are often reported and the highway committee expects to overcome many of these by using the metal ruts.

REBELS BEATEN IN BLOODIEST BATTLE

92 Are Killed in Deathblow to Uprising in Guanajuato

Mexico City.—(P)—Dispatches from Irapuato, Guanajuato, Thursday said 92 insurgents, two Catholic priests, the chieftain Romoño Anaya, two army officers and four soldiers had been killed in the bloodiest battle which had occurred since the insurgents became active.

Forty insurgents were wounded and 47 captured in fighting at San Isidro ranch near San Francisco Del Rincon Tuesday and Wednesday. General Genovevo Rivas, commander of the forty-third regiment and six soldiers were also wounded.

Insurgents offered desperate resistance even to the end when fighting spread to the roofs of buildings until it was confined to a church on the ranch where the leaders succumbed.

CONFIRM CLASS OF 14 IN CHURCH IN CENTER

Fourteen boys and girls of St. John Lutheran church, town of Center, will be confirmed at 9:30 Sunday morning. Rev. A. Werner will examine and confirm the class at a special English service.

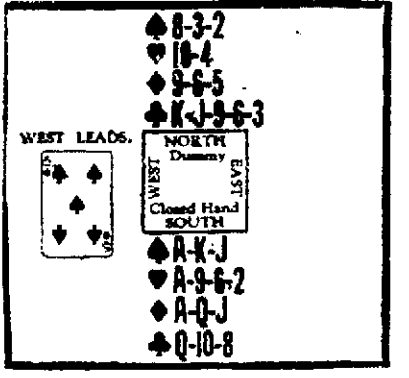

Members of the class are Orville Reinke, Lester Koepke, Ervin Arnold, George Jahr, Leland Koepke, Harold Lilje, Harley Wagner, Willard Bergholz, Elmer Schumann, Feida Bellin, Irma Willenkamp, Helen Bellin, Myrtle Luedtke, and Leona Beyer.

John R. Diederich and W. F. Saack, formerly in the Saack-Diederich company, have returned from Washington, D. C., where, it is understood, they appeared before the internal revenue department of the government.

How To Play Bridge

By Milton C. Work

Yesterday the following problem was given: The contract is No Trump; South is Declarer. North is Dummy. The initial lead is shown. How should Declarer plan his campaign as soon as he sees Dummy's hand and knows the exact twenty-six cards with which he will operate?

DECLARER'S PLAN OF CAMPAIGN

A Spade being led, Declarer will see that he is sure of three Spade tricks, one Heart trick, two Diamond tricks, and two Club tricks; he wants to get the extra (game-going) trick if possible. He has two chances of obtaining it; one being that the adverse Ace of Clubs is held as a singleton or as

CITY WANTS RUBBISH IN SUPERIOR-ST RAVINE

The advent of spring and the resultant cleaning up of ash piles and cellars and dumping of the rubbish at city dumping grounds has prompted city officials to remind Appleton residents that all rubbish should be dumped in the ravine at the foot of S. Superior-st. Everything except garbage can be dumped there.

That many persons either are unaware that the Washington-st dump has been closed or have forgotten the request to dump at Superior-st is indicated by the number of persons chased off the former dump and told to take the rubbish to S. Superior-st. Street department employees at the city barns have to keep constant lookout to inform persons of the change in dumping grounds.

Much Smoke; No Fire
The fire department was called to the residence of Clarence M. Franck, 20 W. Eighth-st., about 8 o'clock Thursday morning where smoke from an overheated furnace led occupants of the house to believe a fire had started in the basement. There was no damage.

NO HELP FROM POSTOFFICE TO CATCH LICENSE DODGER

Police and postal authorities Thursday morning set about to correct the impression that police received information from the postoffice here to enable the former to arrest Guy Hudson for failure to obtain a license for his automobile. According to Chief George T. Prim, Hudson confessed a ruse to defeat the state licensing law after he was taken to the police station by a police officer. Hudson, it is said, confessed he had purchased a money order payable to the secretary of the state and two days later cashed the money order at the postoffice here, giving as a pretext that he had sold the car. Postal authorities did not give the police any information in the case, police and postal employees said.

Hudson paid a fine of $25 in municipal court here. The usual fine has been $10 but the court assessed an extra $15 because Hudson deliberately tried to defeat the law.

from acute intoxication. His condition became worse after midnight and about 2 o'clock the police called a doctor but were told that no medicine was available at that hour. He would call at the station in the morning. Henning steadily grew worse and about 3 o'clock the police sent a car to the doctor's home to take him to the station but before the physician arrived Henning had died.

You Need More Than a Smile

By Edna Wallace Hopper
It's pleasant to know that your glinting white teeth fascinate and allure. But we who make an earnest study of health and youth preservation demand more than cleanliness. The enamel and gums must be protected.

Edna Wallace Hopper as she looks today

To assure the greatest protection against wearing away of precious enamel I have had to understand personally the effects of the various ingredients of the tooth paste I use, which is called Quindent. I am convinced that it not only cleanses and polishes the teeth perfectly, but it purifies the breath and, above all, counteracts the ever-present acids. This last protection is due to one of its most valuable properties—milk of magnesia, which I used to use separately as a mouth wash before expert scientists had produced Quindent.

Quindent is not a biting, sharp dentifrice. Its action is sure and mild. The taste is pleasant and I advise you to leave a slight coating of it on the gums and tongue which is effective for hours.

THE CANARY MURDER CASE

by S. S. VAN DINE AUTHOR OF THE BENSON MURDER CASE

CHARACTERS
JOHN F. MANNIX, District Attorney of New York County
MARGARET ODELL (THE "CANARY")
CHARLES CLEAVER, a man-about-town
KENNETH SPOTSWOOD, a manufacturer
LOUIS MANIX, an importer
DR. AMBROISE LINDQUIST, a fashionable neurologist
TONY SKEEL, a professional burglar
WILLIAM ELMER JESSUP, telephone operator
HARRY SPIVELY, telephone operator
ERNEST HEATH, Sergeant of the Homicide Bureau

THE STORY THUS FAR
 Mr. Mannix was with me from half-past ten until two in the morning. Alys La Fosse tells me that she had traced a picture found in the apartment of the murdered Margaret Odell to Alys. He is trying to prove to Markham that Skeel did not commit the murder, despite the fact Skeel's fingerprints were found in the apartment. Vance believes Skeel was hiding in a closet while the murder was committed. Markham ridicules the theory, but Vance is unshaken. He believes the murder was committed by one of the following four: Mannix, Cleaver, Dr. Lindquist or Spotswood. He is trying to get some information from Alys La Fosse.

Chapter XXVIII
 "I'm sure it will be a success," Vance spoke with disarming friendliness. "Were you home alone all Monday evening?"

"Hardly," The idea seemed to amuse her. "I went to the 'Scandals'—but I came home early. I knew Louey—Mr. Mannix—was coming."

"I trust he appreciated your sacrifice, Vance. I believe, was disappointed by this unexpected ally of Mannix's. It was indeed, so final that further interrogation concerning it seemed futile. After a momentary pause, he changed the subject."

"Tell me; what do you know about Mr. Charles Cleaver? He was a friend of Miss Odell's?"

"Oh, yes, all right," The girl was plainly relieved by this turn in the conversation. "A good scout. He was certainly gone on Margy. Even after she threw him over for Mr. Spotswood, he was faithful, as you might say—always running after her, sending her flowers and presents."

"Some men are like that. Poor old Pop! He even phoned me Monday night to call up Margy for him and try to arrange a party. — Maybe if I'd done it, she wouldn't be dead now. . . . It's a funny world, isn't it?"

"Oh, no, not funny," Vance smoked calmly for a minute; I could not help admiring his self-control. "What time did Mr. Cleaver phone you Monday night — do you recall?" From his voice one would have thought the question of no importance.

"Let me see. . . . She phoned her lips pretty. 'It was just ten minutes to twelve. I remember that the little chime clock on the mantel over there was striking midnight, and at first I couldn't hear Pop very well. You see, I always keep my clock ten minutes fast so I'll never be late for an appointment.'"

"Vance compared the clock with his watch."

"Yes, it's ten minutes fast — And what about the party?"

"Oh, I was too busy talking about the show, and I had to refuse. Anyway, Mr. Mannix didn't want to have a party that night. . . . It wasn't my fault, was it?"

"Not a bit of it," Vance assured her. "Work comes before pleasure — especially work as important as yours. . . . And now, there is one other man to ask you about and then I won't bother you any more — What was the situation between Miss Odell and Dr. Lindquist?"

"Miss La Fosse became genuinely perturbed."

who's guilty; but the police agree with Mr. Mannix."

"For a moment the girl's doubts returned, and she gave Vance a searching look."

"Why are you so interested? You didn't know Margy, did you? She never mentioned you."

Vance laughed.

"My dear child! I only wish I knew why I am so deucedly concerned in this affair. For my word, I can't give you even the sketchiest explanation. . . . No, I never met Miss Odell. But it would offend my sense of proportion if Mr. Skeel were punished and the real culprit went free. Maybe I'm getting sentimental. A sad fate, what?"

"I guess I'm getting soft, too," She nodded her head, still looking Vance squarely in the eyes. "I risked my happy home to tell you what I did, because somehow I believed you. . . . Say, you're not straining me, by any chance?"

Vance put his hand on her head, and became serious.

"My dear Miss La Fosse, when I leave here it will be as though I had never entered. Dismiss me and Mr. Van Dine here from your mind."

Something in his manner banished her misgivings, and she bade us a kit tenish farewell.

(Thursday, September 13; afternoon)

"My slumming goes better," exclaimed Vance, when we were again in the street. Fair Alys was a veritable mine of information—eh, what. Only, you should have controlled yourself better when she mentioned her beloved's name—really, you should. Van old thing, I saw you jump and heard you leave. Such emotion is most unbecoming in a lawyer."

From a box in a drug-store near the hotel he telephoned Markham. "I am taking you to lunch. I have numerous confidences I would pour in your ear. A debate ensued, but in the end Vance emerged triumphant, and a moment later a taxicab was driving us downtown."

"Alys is clever—there are brains in that fluffy head," he ruminated. "She's much smarter than Heath. She knew at once that Skeel wasn't guilty. Her characterization of the immaculate Tony was inelegant but how accurate—oh, how accurate! And you noticed of course, how she trusted me. Touching, wasn't it? . . . It's a knotty problem, Van. Something's amiss, somewhere."

He was silent, smoking, for several blocks.

"Mannix. . . . Curious he should crop up again. He issued orders to Alys to keep him. Now why? Maybe the reason he gave her was the real one. Who knows—On the other hand, was he with his cherie amie from half past ten till early morning? Well, well. Again, who's to say something queer about that business discussion?"

"Then Cleaver he called up just ten minutes before midnight—oh, yes, he called up. That wasn't a fairytale. But how could he telephone from a speeding car? He couldn't. Maybe he really wanted to have a party with his reluctant Canary, don't you know? But then, why the brumming abili? Funk? Maybe."

"But why the circumspectness?—why didn't he call his lost love direct? Ah, perhaps he did! Some one certainly called her by phone at twenty minutes to twelve."

may have appealed to Alys. Quite natural, y'know. Anyway, he wasn't in Boonton.—Poor Markham! How upset he'll be when he finds out."

"But what really worries me is that story of the doctor. Jealous mania! It squares with Ambrose's character perfectly. He's the kind that does go off his head. I knew his confession of paternalism was a red herring. My word! So the doctor was making threats and flourished pistols, eh? And, and, I don't like it. With those eyes of his, he wouldn't hesitate to pull the trigger. Paranoia—that's it. Delusions of persecution. Probably thought the girl and Pop—or maybe the girl and Spotswood—were plotting his misery and laughing at him."

"You can't tell about those chaps. They're deep—and they're dangerous. The canny Alys had him sized up. Taken by and large, it's a devilish tangle. Anyway, I feel rather bucked. We're moving—oh, undoubtedly. We're moving—though in what direction I can't even guess. It's beastly annoying."

Markham was waiting for us at the Bankers' Club. He greeted Vance irritably.

"What have you got to tell me that's so damned important?"

"Now, don't get ratty," Vance was humming. "How's your lodestar, Skeel, behaving?"

"So far he's done everything that's pure and refined except join the Christian Endeavor Society."

"Sunday's coming. Give him time. . . . So you're not happy, Markham, dear?"

"Was I dragged away from another engagement to report on my state of mind?"

"No, indeed. Your state of mind's execrable. . . . Cheerio! I've brought you something to think about."

"Damn it! I've got too much to think about now."

"Here, have some broche," Vance gave the order for lunch without consulting either of us. And now for revelations. Pop Cleaver wasn't in Boonton last Monday night. He was very much in the midst of our modern Gomorrah, trying to arrange a midnight party."

"Wonderful!" snorted Markham. "I've got to take it, it was on the road to Hopalong. The supernatural leaves me cold."

"You may beas panceomic as you choose. Cleaver was in New York at midnight, craving excitement."

HERMAN'S ATTEMPT TO KILL DOG IS BOOMERANG

Berlin (AP)—Herr Mueller didn't like Phylax any more.

Instead of turning him over to the S. P. A. he decided to kill the dog. He took the animal into the woods, the Frankfurter Zeitung reports, tied him to a tree and fastened a cartridge to his back. He lighted the fuse and took to his heels.

The dog, quick to scent danger, tore himself loose. He ran after his master and soon caught up with him. Herr Mueller was horror-struck. The cartridge might explode any minute and he would suffer the fate he had destined for his dog. He started to run, but the dog easily kept pace.

EVANS WOOLLEN

TAGGERT CANDIDATE IN INDIANA SURE OF HOOSIER DELEGATES

No Doubt That Evans Woollen Will Have Staunch Backing in Democrats

Indianapolis (AP)—Seldom comes a presidential year in which Indiana is unable to offer a favorite son to both of the major parties.

This year, while United States Senator James E. Watson is contesting with Herbert Hoover for Hoosier delegates to the Republican convention, the Democrats will endorse Evans Woollen, Indianapolis banker, only candidate on the Indiana ballot for the Democratic nomination.

Woollen, sponsored by Tom Taggart, veteran Hoosier political leader, was once described by a party speaker as "a man with a Republican head and a Democratic heart."

During the free silver days of 1896, when Bryan's bi-metalism engulfed the Democratic party, Woollen clung to the gold standard and sought election to congress as a gold Democrat. Environment has made him a conservative in politics. He was born into a family of affluence, gentility and position, of pioneer stock.

Although he has been a consistent party worker for 30 years, he was virtually unknown to Democrats generally when he was brought out two years ago as the opponent of Arthur R. Robinson for the senate.

His pose, his understanding of Democratic principles and his ability as a speaker took the fancy of Indiana Democrats. He was beaten, but it was soon after the senatorial campaign that Taggart advanced him for Democratic presidential nomination.

Woollen responded to the call of his party chieftain in the world war and became a fuel administrator under President Wilson. Later he refused a place on the federal reserve board, in the creation of which he had had a voice as advisor. He always has been a leader in banking circles and for several years has headed the economic policy commission of the American Bankers association.

Tall, with gray hair and impeccable in dress, Woollen is 64 and looks much less. He has asserted his belief in the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill. His wife is the daughter of Conrad Baker, a former governor of Indiana. They have one son.

HENS SHIRK DUTIES WITH EASTER NEAR

As Easter approaches, the problem of the egg supply arises. Prospects of lots of egg decorating this year look rather gloomy, and unless chickens suddenly take to working over time, youngsters accustomed to big nests of eggs left by the Easter rabbit might be disappointed.

According to egg dealers, the scarcity is due to the varying weather conditions. Because of the high cost of chicken feed, eggs are 4 cents per dozen higher this year than they were last year at this time.

Doctor Found Women and Children Sick More Often than Men

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, head aches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of Dr. Caldwell's 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in Dr. Caldwell's private practice. Now the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed.

While women, children and elderly people are especially benefited by Dr.

Watch Girls Gain in Two Weeks Time!

Growing girls and boys need something only Nature can provide. It isn't found in drugs, and it can't be done by diet. And whets the appetite of children who don't eat enough. Fig syrup for that listless, sluggish, or feverish child! It invigorates a torpid liver; thoroughly cleanses the entire alimentary tract. SHOULD TREAT OAT SEED BEFORE PLANTING TO KILL SMUT

BULLETIN GIVES 3 WAYS TO PREVENT LOSS BY DISEASE

Formaldehyde Solution Has Proven Effective Way of Killing Spores.

BY W. F. WINSEY
The annual losses from smut in oat yields are estimated at an average of 48,991,700 bushels, according to a statement of the United States Department of Agriculture. Several methods of applying a solution of formaldehyde as a preventive are effective. These methods are the spray method, the sprinkling can method and the dipping methods. For the spray method, mix a pint of formaldehyde with a pint of water and pour into a quart sprayer. Shovel the oats from one pile to another, spraying each shovelful.

In the sprinkling can method, use one pint of formaldehyde to 40 gallons of water. Apply the solution to the oats as they are being shoveled from one pile to another.

In each case, the solution advised is sufficient to treat 50 bushels of oats.

CAN BE PREVENTED
The complete statement of the department on the treatment of seed oats to control smut is follows:

The large annual losses in oat yields due to smut diseases can be almost wholly prevented simply by dipping, spraying or sprinkling the seed with a formaldehyde solution a short time before sowing. The importance of smut in oats is quite generally overlooked because its effect is inconspicuous at harvest time and the market value of the threshed grain is not usually impaired during the first ten years, for which records are available, oat smut has caused estimated losses ranging from 28,000,000 to 91,000,000 bushels and an estimated annual loss amounting to 48,991,700 bushels.

One pint of formaldehyde, which may be obtained at any drug store, is sufficient to treat 50 bushels of seed oats. Several methods of applying the solution are effective, and the one to use is only a matter of preference. For the spray method, mix a pint of formaldehyde with one pint of water and pour into a quart sprayer.

If fewer than 50 bushels are to be treated, use a correspondingly smaller quantity of the solution. Shovel the oats from one pile to another, spraying each shovelful. A scoop-shovelful of seed requires about four strokes of the piston of the spray gun. After the oats are sprayed, shovel them into a pile and cover with blankets or sacks that have been thoroughly sprayed to kill smut spores. The pile should remain covered at least five hours and may be left covered overnight. Treatment may be given at any time previous to sowing, but when the seedling is delayed, the oats should be spread out and aired for a day before sowing.

To treat 50 bushels of oats by the "sprinkle method," add 1 pint of formaldehyde to 40 gallons of water and apply with a sprinkler can while the oats are being shoveled from one pile to another. Cover in the same way and leave at least 2 hours or overnight. On removing the cover, soil immediately, making allowance for the swollen condition of the seed when setting the drill. If sowing is delayed, the treated seed should be spread out and thoroughly dried.

Yet another method consists in putting the seed into loosely woven burlap or gunny sacks and dipping the sacked grain into a solution of a pint of formaldehyde in 40 gallons of water. Dip the sacks of grain into the solution two or three times, or until the grain is thoroughly wet. Remove from the solution and let drain at least 2 hours or overnight. Then sow immediately or spread out to dry. After using the sprinkling and dip methods, care should be taken to avoid freezing or heating the treated seed, and even the drill should be wet with the solution to kill any spores present.

In treating oats, work on the windward side of the oat escape the formaldehyde vapor which is irritating to the eyes, nose and throat.

EARLY WHEAT FAVORED
Reno, Nev.—(P)—Crop specialists at the University of Nevada have advised Nevada farmers to plant wheat of the Federation varieties this year because of the impending dry summer. They mature earlier than spring wheats, sometimes as much as three weeks and thus are water savers.

HENS HAVING "IT" SURE OF FUTURE. POULTRYMEN TOLD

Madison—(P)—Hens failing to "keep that pullet complexion" have no future.

Poultry experts at the University of Wisconsin advise farmers to keep nothing but flappers—the kind that have the big, bright eyes and go to roost late.

"Neat" and "active" are two ways they describe "that certain something" the modern hen must have, together with the stipulation that she be "noisy, active and friendly."

The vigorous, attractive hen, they say, is the best layer.

URGE BARLEY FOR FINISHING STOCK

Livestock and Meat Improvement Council Gives Reasons for Use

Madison—(P)—Barley: Pests and diseases are not troublesome.

Is high in both feed and cash value.

Feeding means good finish—early market.

Fits admirably with other feeds.

These are the points set forward by the Wisconsin Livestock and Meat Improvement Council in its scheme for promotion of barley-growing in Wisconsin. The council believes this will materially help to solve some of the problems which confront the livestock industry.

A letter to livestock men and "hog" farmers in certain districts over the state expresses the council's opinion that "much of our livestock goes to market in a very unfinished condition. This lack of finish means a serious loss to the industry. It is reflected in both yield and quality of products. This lack of finish is largely due to lack of grain on the farms where the livestock is produced. This is particularly true of swine."

The farmers and livestock men to whom the council's circular letter is addressed, are informed of the various advantages of feeding barley to livestock; quotations are taken liberally from state agricultural college bulletins.

The barley plant will not be touched by the threatening corn borer, the council points out. Plant diseases affecting barley are eliminated comparatively easy.

In field tests that are detailed, it is shown that barley produced 270 pounds more of total digestible nutrients per acre than oats, was subject to greater hot weather and drought hazard than corn, had such excellent feed properties as 13 to 15 per cent protein, 9 per cent of which is digestible, fitted admirably into ration systems; was fine for both growth and finish of pigs.

Additional points in favor of barley listed in the letter are that it lodges less in rich soil than oats, can be sowed somewhat later than oats, will stand hot weather at ripening time better than oats, is not so easily injured by rust and smut and has a higher cash value.

RUSSIAN COTTON GAINS
Paris—(P)—Cotton culture in Russia is expanding, figures released by the Soviet embassy indicate. The cotton acreage, estimated at 1,644,000 in 1923, was placed at 1,824,000 for 1927. The total acreage farmed in Russia last year is estimated at 5.5 per cent less than 1913, but there is said to be a prospect of exceeding in 1928, the pre-war figures. Acreage of all sorts had fallen, in 1922, to about 30 per cent of pre-war farming.

CHICAGO DEVELOPS BIG COTTON TRADE
Opens Trade on a 50 Bale Unit Basis Instead of Former 100 Bale

Chicago—(P)—King wheat is moving over on his Chicago throne to make room for King Cotton.

Established three years ago, the Chicago cotton market has grown until now it is expected the 1928 volume of business will reach 25,000,000 bales. Cotton trading on the Chicago board of trade marked a new era in methods of merchandising the American crop.

Trading is on a 50-bale unit basis, as compared to a 100-bale unit basis on the older exchanges.

In addition, the Chicago market, which makes the joint ports of Houston and Galveston, Texas, the sole point of delivery for Chicago contracts, reflects accurately the value of Texas and Oklahoma cotton which composes the greater part of the country's exportable surplus. Prior to establishment of the Chicago market, there seemed to be no future contract reflecting the value of cotton in the two states.

The New York market offers a contract based primarily on a cotton contract and the New Orleans exchange, on Mississippi and Louisiana cotton.

In the first year of its existence—1925—the total volume of business on the Chicago exchange was only 1,510,000 bales. In 1928 it was 2,077,400 bales.

William T. Meadows, cotton registrar of the Chicago exchange, responsible for the terms of the 50-bale cotton contract, is a native of Alabama.

BULLETIN TELLS HOW TO SPRAY ORCHARDS
BY W. F. WINSEY

To raise big crops of choice fruit in the farm apple orchards of this vicinity it is necessary for the farmer to prune his apple trees to balance them, to light, to spray the trees, to control pests and to fertilize the trees under the drip of the branches.

So many pruning demonstrations have been conducted by experts in this vicinity, in which orchard owners got actual experience by doing the work, that no further information nor practice appears necessary. The purpose of pruning and full direction are contained in Bulletin 354, issued by the College of Agriculture. This bulletin may be obtained by application to the county agent or the College of Agriculture.

Circular 158 tells "Why How and When to spray farm orchards." It also issued by the College of Agriculture and may be had on request.

Here And There Among The Farmers--

De Pere—Ten cows in Wisconsin State Reformatory herd produced over a ton of milk during the month of February this year. Twenty-four cows of the same herd on yearly test, under Andrew Esser, College of Agriculture, are being milked four times daily. Princess Della third is now producing over 100 pounds of milk, containing four pounds of butter fat, daily. In the pens are 380 animals including 73 brood sows, 39 small pigs, and 230 hogs that are being fattened for consumption in the institution. This spring, the institution is to plan 130 acres of vegetables. Eight teams are now hauling barnyard manure and spreading it on the fields in anticipation of spring planting.

A free throw by Captain Willis Haase with less than a minute to go enabled a ragged-playing Neenah high school cage team to squeeze out a 12-11 victory in its first game of the 1928 Wisconsin state high school championship basketball tournament Wednesday afternoon at Madison and to remain in the race for the state title by the narrowest of margins. East De Pere was the victim of the close defeat in which Neenah appeared to be stage-struck throughout the offense played a terrible ball. Only a good defense in the final period saved the day for the goathans.

The first quarter ended with neither team being able to score a solitary point. Gaertner replaced Radtke in the second period and immediately the offense played a tossed a basket. Schneller and Gaertner added free throws while De Pere was scoring three points and the half ended, 4-3 for the Jorgenson five, each team having one basket.

SECOND HALF
Immediately after the half started Neenah took a five-point lead when Ehlers scored on the opening tipoff, play and Schneller counted down under the hoop on the next play. It looked like old times and a walk away to Neenah fans but De Pere came back to cut the lead to 11-9 at the close of the period. Neither team scored the first five minutes of the final period but with three minutes to go De Pere counted from the center of the court to tie the count at 11 all. After Haase was fouled and made the free try in the final minute, Neenah took the lead off and held the ball until the final gun by clever stalling.

IT TOOK GAERTNER
Gaertner was high scorer for Neenah with two neat baskets and two free throws, outscoring all his six-foot mates in the final minutes. Schneller had three with a basket and a free try, respectively. Johnson and Ehlers started on defense.

Vanderbloemen, giant center, led the losers in the score column, with a basket and three free tries for five of eleven points, his basket from mid-floor tying the count at 11 all in the final minutes. Berg also got a long basket and a free try, Dillon a basket and Lee a free try. Neenah's tight defense held the loser to a single short basket the entire game, that by Dillon.

LA CROSSE FAVORED
Pairing for the second day find Marshfield and Madison Central playing the real feature of the quarter finals. Wausau, Madison Central, La Crosse, and Watertown are the heavy favorites for the semi-finals.

40 CLASSY PREP CAGE FIVES IN STAGG MEET

Chicago—(P)—Forty of the country's best basketball teams, survivors of some 20,000 that started the season, will be in the tenth annual University of Chicago National Interscholastic Basketball tournament starting next Tuesday and continuing until Saturday night. Morton high school of Cicero, Ill., won the title last year. Thirty-five teams, representing thirty-one states, already are entered. Thirty are state champions; three are runners-up, and two hold local titles.

Ed Morgan Best Outfield Prospect In Ten Seasons

BY BILLY EVANS

He's a second Ty Cobb or just another Tris Speaker. Since these two great stars came to the American League, all other outfield prospects are rated by comparison.

When an expert desires to pay the highest possible compliment to some outfield recruit, he refers to him as a second Ty Cobb or another Tris Speaker. Such an expression of opinion carries with it big praise and few of the spring phenoms have lived up to it.

In the last 25 years, one would have a tough time naming more than a dozen outfielders entitled to be placed in the same class as Ty Cobb or Tris Speaker.

Every spring produces an early crop of sensations. Few of them survive the training trip and only occasionally does a recruit make the grade, a la Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker.

There comes to the ranks of the Morgan of New Orleans, one of the best outfield prospects I have seen in the last ten years. Eddie Morgan, outstanding star of the Southern League last year, has already been selected to play centerfield for the Cleveland Indians. He is the Tris Speaker's shoe. That is a mighty difficult assignment, but I have no doubt as to Morgan's ability to ultimately deliver.

PRETTY CLOSE!

APPLETON SPONSOR OF NEW HIGH SPORT

Local School Organizes First Gym Team of Valley Conference

Appleton high school, which is becoming better known daily for its great intermural sport program to give all boys of the school a chance in athletics, scored again in this line when it was announced this week that the local institution will sponsor a gymnasium team. Like in the case of hockey, which was started here last year, the school will be the first in the Fox River Valley Conference and one of the first in the state to have an organized varsity gymnasium team.

The squad, which was organized to stimulate advanced gym work, will take part in its first actual meet with only a few weeks of practice, on Saturday evening, April 7, and it couldn't have chosen a stronger foe for its opponent. The Fond du Lac Y. M. C. A. squad, undefeated in meets with many association teams of northern Wisconsin, including Green Bay, this season will be the rival, with the contest being held at the local association gym. Interest in the sport is high, since the announcement and a large attendance, including many "grownups" is expected.

The Appleton squad is composed of beginners who became interested in the work but is led by an especially fine performer in Bob Neller, Valley conference pole vault record holder. Bob is a brother of Dick Neller, star on the bars and rings for the strong University of Wisconsin teams of the last two years, and the pair have given exhibitions together, the high school lad receiving the benefit of his older brother's experience and coaching.

Other members of the team are practically raw material and green in this new field of athletics while the Fondy team has been working in the field for years. Appleton men out for the work are: Howard Ruth, Melvin Ruth, Raymond Quella, Bob Neller, Walter Moore, Pat Smith, and Byron Bowly. James Neller, junior high school student, also will enter the meet.

The events will be on the horizontal bar, parallel bars, flying rings, side horse, and mats or tumbling.

Each team enters three contestants on each piece of apparatus. These gymnasts perform one required series of exercises and one optional series. They are graded by the following system: one point possible for a perfect approach to the apparatus, four points possible for form, four points are graded for the retreat. This makes a possible 10 points for a man on one exercise and 20 points for his two series. Likewise each team can, at the most, score 60 points on each piece of apparatus and 300 in a perfect gym meet.

JOINS PIRATES

EDDIE MULLIGAN

When the San Francisco Pacific Coast League owners were in need of a shortstop the bosses of the Pittsburgh Pirates came to the rescue and sent them Hal Rhyne, a former coast league star who should be one of the best minor league players in the country. Not long after the Pirates felt the need of a good utility infielder and the San Francisco magnates reciprocated by selling Eddie Mulligan, a star third baseman, Mulligan, the ranking third baseman of the coast league, was obtained by San Francisco from the Chicago White Sox in the Willie Kamm deal.

APPLETON TEAM HITS ONLY 2,700 IN A. B. C.

Special to Post-Crescent.
Kansas City, Mo.—Poor sports shooting and inability to bunch their strikes prevented the Hoppies Womers of Appleton from slipping into the prize list of the team event of the American Bowling Congress meet here Wednesday night. The local team rapped out a 2700 series on games of 873, 339 and 888, with only four double century marks gracing the score sheet, three of them resulting from the expert shooting of Henry Strutz, a local man. Strutz had beautiful control of his minerals as he sent his twisting hook into the 3 socket with piston-like precision to amass games of 221, 205, 225, for 651 total. Fries who led off with 571, garnered the other double century count, 221 in his middle game. The minor events will be the target attack for the Appleton pinmeets Thursday.

The team score:
Fries, 190, 180, 154, 159 Weisgerber, 127, 193, 178; Felt, 176, 146, 168; Strutz, 221, 205, 225; Totals 873, 937, 999, 2700.

How Test Was Made
Subject was blindfolded, and, in the presence of two responsible witnesses, was given one of each of the four leading cigarettes to smoke. Coffee was served before each cigarette to clear the taste. Subject was entirely unaware of the identity of these cigarettes during test. After smoking the entire series of four cigarettes, subject was asked to designate by number his choice. SPILL LITTLE DOPE IN TOURNEY GAMES

Teams Expected to Win Come Through in State Prep Cage Meet

Madison — (P) — Those who were expected to win, generally in the state high school basketball tournament Wednesday and Thursday night, teams furthered their championship aspirations.

Madison Central, Marshfield, Neenah, LaCrosse, Waukesha, Wausau, Stevens Point and Watertown are the teams contesting for second round honors Thursday.

Four other teams will compete in the consolation rounds before the evening games. Four other consolation teams will be on the University of Wisconsin gymnasium floor.

Madison Central entered the second round by defeating Ashland 20 to 9 Wednesday, sending the northern school against Cuba City for the first consolation game. Cuba City's hard fighting quint was out-generated by the clever Marshfield team, 35 to 13, and should Marshfield have the "stuff" it showed Wednesday and Madison Central show the slow and ragged attack it displayed Wednesday, the only remaining "big city" team in the tourney is not likely to take the second place, it achieved last year.

TWO CLOSE GAMES

Neenah and De Pere, newcomers in the ranks of district tourney winners, opened a series of two close games, De Pere being relegated to the consolation rounds, 12 to 11. It will meet Oconto, loser to LaCrosse in the second round, close-scored contest, 23 to 24. Oconto gave the larger city's five a scare by several times threatening the LaCrosse lead.

With River Falls, Waukesha practically had its own way, winning 20 to 9. Spooner, another new entrant in the final title race was eliminated and matched against River Falls in the consolation which will be played Wednesday. River Falls won fourth place winners last year, 31 to 15.

Whitehall, another new district representative, surprised the evening fans by making Stevens Point, also new in state final competition, work every minute to win 31 to 25.

BEST GAME OF DAY
One upset occurred in the evening's play, when Wisconsin high of Madison fell before Watertown, 13 to 12. A last minute chance to tie the score was missed by the famed Briggs of Madison when he stopped over the foul line in trying for a free throw. The Capitol city team had the lead until the latter part of the game. The loss obviated the chance of two strong Madison teams meeting in the finals and made it almost certain that Madison would have a consolation prize if not a championship, as the Badger high team is vaunted as able to trim any of the present consolationists. Its first game will be with Whitehall Thursday evening.

16 Appleton High Athletes Enter Events Saturday Afternoon

Final trials at Alexander gymnasium Wednesday afternoon enabled Coach Joseph Shields to select the entire track and field squad which will represent the Orange in the indoor meet for high schools of northeastern Wisconsin which will be held Saturday afternoon at the Columbus Club, Green Bay. Book Of Knowledge

Early Oil History

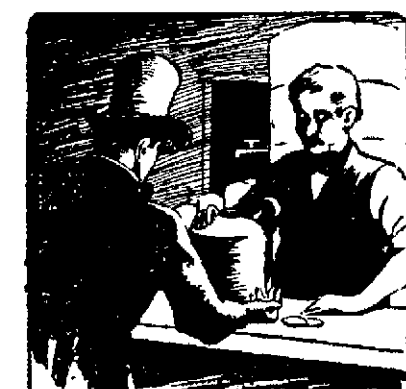

Men boring wells to get salt water in western Virginia in 1806 found much petroleum along with the brine. This caused a great deal of trouble and the oil was looked upon as a nuisance. No one seems to have thought of using oil as a medicine for many years. In 1846 Dr. Abraham Gesner of Nova Scotia obtained an oil from coal and called it kerosene.

By NEA, Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge. Copyright, 1923-28

The demand for oil to burn grew and Dr. Silliman of Yale College was employed to experiment. He reported that "petroleum furnished excellent oil for burning."

In 1848 Samuel Kier sold oil for burning under the name "carbon oil." It sold for a dollar and a half a gallon and had a terrible odor.

Two years later an Englishman, James Young, extracted oil from shale. People began to want more of this oil, and in 1856 it was determined to make the experiment of boring a well deep into the earth. The company employed Edwin L. Drake to superintend the work. Drake had been a railway conductor and had resigned because of ill health. (To Be Continued)

CALUMET COUNTY KAUKAUNA-LITTLE CHUTE-KIMBERLY NEARBY TOWNS

WISCONSIN LEADER IN ESTABLISHING VOCATION SCHOOLS Trade School Organization Set Up Before Passage of Smith-Hughes Bill

Kaukauna—H. C. Thayer, Madison, supervisor of teacher training of the vocational educational department of the state, was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Kaukauna Advancement association held Wednesday evening in the council chambers of the municipal building. Mr. Thayer substituted for George P. Harnett, of the same department who was unable to reach the city. Mr. Thayer explained the workings of the vocational school organization. "Wisconsin was one of the first states to organize a vocational educational department, even before the Smith-Hughes bill was passed in 1917," Mr. Thayer said. "The Smith-Hughes bill was a federal act and made necessary several changes in the state organization which was really started in 1911. "Now we have a federal board of vocational education which must not be confused with the commissioner of education. It is the duty of this board to see that the federal appropriation fairly and that each state fulfills the provision of the act. "Under the national board are the separate state boards which must be made up of at least three members. Wisconsin has eleven members of which three are farmers, three are employers, three are employees, one is a member of the industrial commission and the other is the state superintendent of public instruction. The board was established as a state board of industrial education without any farmer representation but this was soon changed. "Federal law provides that there must be a local board of education in every city of 5,000 population or more. This board consists of five members, of which two are employees, two are employers and the other the city superintendent of schools. "The state board has three distinct functions. The first is agricultural. At the present time there are 74 centers throughout the state where vocational education of a secondary school level is maintained. Besides this there are four county schools of agriculture located at Menominee, Rochester, Wisconsin Rapids and Wausau. Then there are 42 city vocational schools under supervision, of which 10 have day and evening classes. The third class is vocational rehabilitation. This provides for the training of people physically handicapped. "Subjects taught at the city vocational schools are divided into four groups: Trade and industrial section, home economics, commercial work and general subjects which include English, social sciences and mathematics. President Ben Prugh named the following committees: North side membership, R. P. Brooks, Gordon Van Lieshout, Joseph Krahn and A. M. Lang; south side membership—J. Dittler, Arthur Look, John Scheer and S. Berens; mid membership—H. L. Donahue, L. P. Nelson and William Asher; merchants committee—Joseph Wittman, N. M. Haupt, B. W. Fargo, Edward Haas and J. J. Martens. The association went on record as being in favor of the paying of the lower end of Lawest and Oak-st on the island. W. P. Hagman, general chairman of the Milwaukee fair, reported a balance of $121.77 in the treasury. The organization started the year with $140.63. This balance together with the receipts of the recent Mid-winter fair amounted to $1,670.69 while the total expenditures, excluding the health clinic, which the city took care of, amounted to $1,548.92.

KAUKAUNA YOUTH WINS HONORS AT ILLINOIS

Kaukauna—Kurtis Beyer, a sophomore at the University of Illinois, has won unusual basketball honors during the winter. He was a member of the team which won the Twin-City basketball championship of Champaign and Urbana. For this he received a gold basketball. "Kurt" also placed second in intramural basketball for which he was awarded a mounted silver basketball. Young Beyer was captain of the first Kaukauna High school basketball squad in a district basketball tournament. That was in 1925 under Coach William Smith.

WRECKED LOCOMOTIVE REBUILT AT KAUKAUNA

Kaukauna—Chicago and Northwestern railroad locomotive No. 2365 has been rebuilt and placed in active service again by Kaukauna shopmen. It is the locomotive which was wrecked near Mercer when the piling under a bridge, was cut out. The 2365 was attached to snowplow and was running a few miles ahead of the Ashland limited. As the heavy locomotive passed over the bridge it gave way, hurling the engine into the south bank of the stream. The fact that extra train passed over the track ahead of the fast passenger undoubtedly saved the lives of passengers. Locomotive 2365 is of the largest freight class the Northwestern railroad has at the present time.

Chained To Chair By Rheumatic Pain--Little Green Capsule Frees Him From Agony

Often In 5 Days Even Tenderness Is Gone Says Voigt's Drug Store, Schlietz Bros. Co.

Men and women who were bent nearly double--whose joints were swollen and inflamed--whose very existence was just on continuous torturing trial have watched with wonder their return to physical fitness and felt the glorious relief of a body free from aches and pains simply by putting their faith in the "Little Green Capsule" known from coast to coast as Allenru Number 2. Surprised!

Artists say there's not a better profile in Manhattan, but ordinary people complain for long after their wonderful mass of soft, gleaming brown hair. She's Adna Adams, lovely New York City girl who lives at 130 East 57th Street. "I was certainly surprised," says Miss Adams, "to see how easy it is to keep my hair soft, shining and easily manageable by the new method so many of my girl friends are using. I don't have to shampoo mine more than once a month now. Dandruff keeps it so clean. It makes my scalp feel just wonderful and I never have a sign of dandruff any more. And Danderine is so simple to use. All you do is put a little on your brush each time you fix your hair. Don't rub this quickly over it, but only film from your hair and restore its natural color and lustre. It keeps bobbles hair in place without streaking or staining. I use it every day or every two bottles."
